LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL MEETS DEFEAT IN HARD PLAYED GAME

Belton Outclasses Locals In Contest Featured By Vernon's Errors—Coach Winston's Lads Unable To Hit Ball At Critical Periods—Game Does Not Alter Standing.

Vernon high school's baseball team met defeat Monday afternoon at the hands of Belton high by the score of 8 to 3 in a hard played game at the fairgrounds in which the visitors outclassed the local players almost from the start. It was evidently Vernon's off day in fielding and hitting, and after the sixth inning, when Belton sent three counters over the plate, the contest was never in doubt. Moser, visiting pitcher, kept Vernon's blows well scattered and the local batters were never dangerous with the exception of the first inning. Baird, the local southpaw, pitched in excellent form, but his support wobbled at critical periods when air tight playing was essential.

Vernon's battery, Captain Curtis and Baird, performed in its usual consistent form, and Cabe and Larrimore showed up well in the infield. Small made a beautiful catch in the sixth inning of a long fly that would have meant several runs had he missed it.

Belton Gets Breaks.
Belton played in form that deserved to win and apparently received the benefits of several close breaks in the game. The visitors showed themselves to be a clean, hard playing aggregation and of exceptional calibre for a high school team. The attendance in the grand stand and on the field was estimated at 1,500, and there were probably 300 more persons lining the fence around the outfield.

Following is the game by innings:
First Inning.
Roberson struck out. Dyer struck out. Smith struck out. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Small hit to center field. Larrimore sacrificed. Curtis connected for a two bagger. Small scoring. Curtis and Smith worked a perfect squeeze. Curtis scored. Delmaso grounded out. Two hits, two runs, no errors.

Second Inning.
Perry was safe on a scratch hit to Baird. Perry stole second. Lawler struck out. Moser struck out. Lewis flew out to Delmaso. One hit, no runs, no errors.

Cabe struck out. Farrell struck out. Hiatt walked. Baird flew out. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Third Inning.
Westbrook walked. Wilbanks attempted a sacrifice but Westbrook was thrown out at second. Wilbanks stole second. Robertson was safe on an infield hit. Wilbanks going to third. Wilbanks scored on a passed ball that hit the plate. Dyer hit to left field and Robertson scored. Smith struck out and Dyer took third. Perry hit a high fly which Farrell missed. Dyer scoring. Lawler flew out to Curtis. Three hits, three runs, two errors.

Small got an infield hit and stole second. He took third on a passed ball. On an attempted hit and run, Small was caught between home and third. Larrimore struck out. Curtis was safe on the shortstop's error. Smith grounded out to Moser. No hits, no runs, one error.

Sixth Inning.
Perry was safe when Delmaso dropped a high fly. Lawler hit to Baird who threw Perry out at second. On an attempted double play Smith threw over Cabe's head. Lawler going to second. Moser flew out. Lawler stole third. Lewis hit to center field and

OHIO CONGRESSMAN SMOKES FORMER EMPEROR'S PIPE.

Representative Roy C. Fitzgerald of Dayton, Ohio, photographed in his office in Washington while taking a few puffs from a $2,000 meerschaum pipe once owned by the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria. The pipe, said to be one of the most remarkable specimens of meerschaum carving in the world, is now owned by L. O. Shank of Dayton.

There are nine figures on the pipe, illustrating the experience of eight youths with their first try at clandestine tobacco smoking. Several of them exhibit the different degrees of nausea, while the ninth, a little girl, is tugging at her brother's coat. He, unable to stand upright, is being embraced by the leader of the "gang."

LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW FICTION LIST

BOOKS OF INTERESTING QUALITY ARE OFFERED FOR SUMMER READING.

Following is a list of books received in the free public library here and brief synopsis of each prepared by Miss Lillian Newton, librarian. The first book is:

"Seed of the Sun" by Wallace Irwin. Mr. Irwin tells the story of two plucky New York girls, who go west to work the fruit ranch they inherit. There is action, outdoor life and adventure in their experiences. Incidentally Mr. Irwin describes the activities of a Japanese society which supports Japanese schools and Buddhist temples for the spread of the doctrine of the Divine Emperor, and in general operates to force out American fruit growers from the richest soil in the coast states.

"Sister Sue" by Eleanor H. Porter. Mrs. Porter considered "Sister Sue" (completed just before her death) the best story she had written. Sister Sue is one of those rainbow characters of great and shining beauty that Mrs. Porter created with so sure a hand.

"The Bar To Three" by Clarence Mulford. Wild west atmosphere coupled with rugged cowboy humor flood the stories of Hopalong Cassidy, Red Connors, and John Nelson. And in this latest account of their adventures, the famous three from the old Bar do more than justify their former reputations.

"The Pagan Madonna" by Harold Mac Grath. A mystery story of unusual interest.

"You Never Saw Such a Girl" by George Weston. A bright cheerful happy romance.

"The Top of the World" a new novel by Ethel M. Dell.

"The Trumpeter Swan" by Temple Bailey, a charming story of love and gallantry of old Southern customs and courtesy, of all that goes with the traditions of the old Dominion.

WILBARGER HARVEST TO START WITHIN WEEK OR TEN DAYS

Farmers Now Busy Overhauling Machinery and Putting All In Readiness For Commencement of Operations—Most of Wheat Is Thought To Be Worth Cutting.

Harvest in Wilbarger county is expected to start in earnest within a week or ten days, and farmers are already hard at work preparing for their "busy season." Supplies are being purchased, machinery overhauled, and all put into readiness for the inauguration of cutting. Many will commence the harvest of oats this week, and a few will begin cutting wheat.

According to the county agent, wheat in most of the localities is looking better than was anticipated several weeks ago. There will be what is considered a "fair crop," and in some instances it will probably average as high as fifteen or twenty bushels to the acre. This, however, will be a high yield. Most of the wheat, it is thought, will be worth cutting although on some farms it will make practically nothing. Early planted wheat is expected to produce considerably better than the crop put in later. Wheat in the Wanderer creek section is said to be particularly good. There is a small amount of rye and barley that will also be harvested in the county.

Expect Plenty of Labor.
Labor is expected to be plentiful during the coming harvesting season. The great amount of unemployment in the county is expected to more than supply the demand for hands.

Rain is needed badly over Wilbarger county, although there has been a noticeable slackening of complaint on the part of farmers, due probably to the absence of extremely dry winds during the last two weeks. In some sections, also, there is a surprisingly large amount of moisture still in the ground.

Early Cotton Excellent.
Cotton in the county, where planted early, has an excellent stand. Many farmers, however, have abandoned this crop and planted corn, maize, and other grains in its place. In some localities oats that bid fair to produce nothing are being plowed up and cotton planted in their stead. This will serve to increase the cotton acreage slightly above the estimate placed upon it earlier in the season.

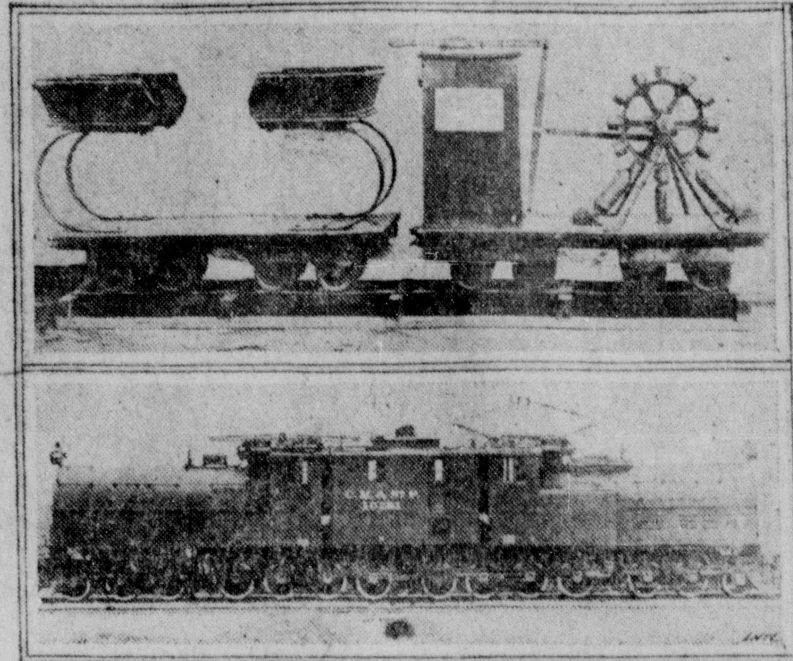

Alfalfa in the county has had one cutting, and is nearly ready for another. Gardens, too, are doing well. It is thought there will be more peaches than at first anticipated, especially in the immediate vicinity of Vernon. The pear crop will be somewhat short, but there is expected to be a plentiful supply of this fruit. There are but few apricots in Wilbarger county.

9-YEAR-OLD WASHINGTON GIRL WONDERFUL RIDER

OLDEST AND NEWEST IN ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES.

The above photos show the first and the latest in electric locomotives. On top is a photo of the earliest type of successfully operated electric engine in the world. It was built by Moses G. Farmer, of Vermont, in 1847, and was ten feet long. It established its claims to the fatherhood of electric traction by antedating German claims for similar honors by thirty years. The lower photo shows the modern electric locomotive, the largest in the world and built seventy-five years later than the machine shown in the upper photo. This big engine hauls long trains over the Western mountains at a seventy-mile-an-hour clip. It is seventy-six feet long and weighs 260 tons.

CITY VOTES MONEY FOR PARKS' UPKEEP

MRS. W. H. HUGGINS WILL HAVE SUPERVISION OVER THE PROPERTY.

City commissioners voted yesterday morning to appropriate $30 a month toward the support of the Shive and Allingham parks in this city, and supervision of the ground was placed in the hands of Mrs. W. H. Huggins. This order was made effective June 1.

The Allingham park was purchased in 1912 by a league of women in Vernon from W. H. Snodgrass, and the property deeded to the city. It is now an attractive addition to the community. Shive park was turned over to the city by T. H. Shive and is also an attractive piece of property. Both parks are in the west part of town.

Will Lay Sewer.
The city engineer was instructed by the commissioners to run a water and sewer line up Yamparika Street west as far as block 11, or South Tolar Street. The distance will be practically 1,000 feet. Work on the project will be started as soon as the pipe arrives. It is ordered from a San Antonio company.

INFORMAL FARM BUREAU MEETING HELD SATURDAY

Many farmers in town Saturday met in the district court room in the afternoon and held an informal meeting in the interest of the Texas Farm Bureau meeting. No gathering had been announced, but under the general impression that there would be "something doing," the room was nearly filled.

Guy R. Jones, county agent, and T. F. Davis, speaker on one of the county teams, addressed those present, and were followed by several of those in the audience. The meeting lasted about two hours.

Injured By Falling Machinery.

Vaughn Barn Burns Saturday.

A barn belonging to Sid Vaughn living on the corner of East Yamparika and South Eagle Streets was almost destroyed by fire about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. Only the children of the family were home when the blaze occurred. The structure was an old one and most of the loss suffered was to a quantity of feed stored in the barn.

To Give Recital.

Mrs. Guy Puckett's piano pupils will give a private recital at her home Friday afternoon. Fifteen will take part in the entertainment to which have been invited the parents and a few friends.

WILL DEEPEN TEST ON BURTON LEASE

HOLE SOUTH OF TOWN HAS BEEN ABANDONED SINCE LAST OCTOBER.

The test on the holdings of W. G. Burton and associates, south of town in Section 13, block 17, will be deepened in the near future, according to Mr. Burton who is in town, and the company is contemplating putting down another test, the location for which has not been determined. W. E. Cabeen, one of Mr. Burton's associates, is also here.

The Burton well south of town is now 850 feet deep and was abandoned about the latter part of last October. It will be taken down to 2,150 feet, the contract depth. J. E. Watts and company have the contract for deepening the hole.

Will Commence In Two Weeks.
The Burton holdings are directly north of the Pyramid and are considered by their owners to be particularly favorably located. Work on the hole is expected to commence in about two weeks.

PUCKETTS HAVE OPENING.

Grocery Store Is At Home to Patrons And Friends On First Day In New And Modern Location.

Guy and Chaucer Puckett, proprietors of Puckett Brothers Grocery Store, were at home to patrons and friends yesterday afternoon, the first day of business in their new location which is one door south of the old store building in which they have been transacting business. Mrs. Guy Puckett, assisted by Miss Lois Morrison, presided at a punch bowl which was entwined with sprays of asparagus ferns and was placed on a table at the front of the store. The ladies who called were also presented with cape jasmine blossoms.

The features of the Puckett store in its new location are its spaciousness, its neatness and its cleanliness. The dimensions are thirty feet by a hundred and ten feet and a partition through the center divides the building, thus providing for a ware room in rear. The two side walls of the front room and also the partition wall, save the counter opening into the office room and the door leading to the rear room, are fitted with shelves up to a height of about twelve feet and on these are arranged canned, bottled, and boxed goods. A circuit of these walls gives the customer a view of the complete stock of goods carried in these lines.

The refrigerator has a place in the partition wall and the cake rack stands near the front window. A long wrapping counter extends along the north side of the store and in the center of the room is the fresh fruit and vegetable rack, back of which is the cash register. These, together with the counter and the cake rack, are the only things occupying floor space, a large per cent of which is left open. The floors are of concrete, and the shelving and counters are stained dark to show the natural grain of the wood.

TELLS FARMERS THEY ARE LIVING IN DIFFERENT AGE

State Farm Bureau Secretary Says Principles of Federation Are Simply Those Of Business Applied To Agriculture—Relates Essentials To Be Observed In Association.

Farmers of today must realize we are living in an entirely different age, C. O. Moser, secretary and manager of the Texas Farm Bureau, told an audience Saturday morning in the district court room. Mr. Moser passed through Vernon on his way to Quamiah to conduct a meeting. Formerly, he said, England financed her cotton and provided a ready market but now that country is not able to meet its obligations and can lend but little assistance. In the meantime the United States must hold the cotton until it is needed.

There is nothing new in the co-operative system of marketing, the State secretary asserted. It has been carried on in Europe for many years and was brought to this country and to California twenty-six years ago. The Rochdale system of marketing, started in England by a band of weavers, has now become a tremendous enterprise in itself, and has been put into use in this country. It, however, is not as efficient as the Danish system which eliminates one community from competing with another.

Same As Science.
The principles of marketing, said Mr. Moser, are the same as those of science. There are a number of essentials to be observed in the formation of a marketing association and these are as follows:

First, there must be the realization that the purchaser is interested in quality and price before all else. Where the product comes from is of secondary importance.

Second, the association must be formed of growers only. Business men who are financially interested in the growing of crops are eligible for membership in a commodity marketing system.

Third, products of like quality and grade should be kept in separate pools and sold separately. Each man, then, receives from his product in proportion to the pool it is put into.

Quality Pays.
Fourth, farmers will learn that it pays to raise the better grades of cotton. The price received for the better grades is corresponding to their quality.

Fifth, there can be no conflict of interests between members of the association. The organization must be for the benefit of all.

Sixth, there must be the realization that experts for marketing the crop can be employed as surely by a farmers' marketing association as by any other kind. Furthermore, it is to be noted that these experts prefer working for producers other than different interests.

Seventh, it is necessary to have a legally enforceable, iron clad contract between the members and the association. Otherwise it would be impossible for the organization to make contracts for future deliveries and otherwise carry on its business. It would be impossible, said Mr. Moser, to organize a bank on a one year basis and the same principle applies to the Federation. This Federation, he said, will be the largest organization of its kind in the world, and will thus be able to accomplish many things that no other one can.

Explains Organization.
The State secretary explained carefully the details concerning the Federation's organization. There are eighteen directors, he said, who receive office through election by the farmers from each congressional district in the State. There are also two directors at large, making twenty in all. At present there are more than 50,000 members in the Texas bureau, representing the largest organization of its kind ever formed in the State.

Four Essential Principles.
Mr. Moser reviewed the great success of the marketing association in California. It is no longer an experiment, he said, but a well established business. It is said that in California there are more boys and girls in the colleges and universities who come from the country than there are from the city.

There are four essential methods in

When her repentant husband discovers her there—well, there is a happy ending.

Wednesday—"The Race of the Ages." "The Race of the Ages" is a picture of the race between Man o' War and Sir Barton at Windsor, Ont., and a sum of $10,000 was paid to the Kenilworth Jockey Club for the motion picture rights of the event. For several days before the race every portion of the track was guarded to make sure that no cameras of any kind or size were gotten on the ground by persons other than those who had paid for the rights. Fourteen cameras were employed in taking the race itself. These were placed at every point of vantage.

Thursday—Wallace Reid in "The Charm School."

According to this story Mr. Reid inherits a girls' school from one of his aunts. Believing that all young women should devote more time to making themselves charming he converts the institution into a charm school and changes all the methods of instruction. ### EAT PLENTY OF SPINACH AND KEEP WELL AND HEALTHY

Spinach Valuable Adjunct to More Substantial Foods in Diet—Rarely Cooked to Perfection, Yet Not Difficult to Prepare. How to Cook Spinach Right Way.

One of the first vegetables in the garden or on the market in the early spring is that reliable stand-by—spinach. The shoots should be cut regularly; if not, the old shoots become tough and rank flavored. Spinach furnishes little body energy but it is exceptionally rich in iron and in one of the most important vitamins, and so is a valuable food, say specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture. It contains little starch and only a suggestion of sugar, and is therefore one of the vegetables that physicians include in the bill of fare of many invalids who require a diet without these carbohydrates.

Cheap in First Cost.

Like most other vegetables, it is rarely cooked to perfection, yet it is not difficult to prepare. Except for special reasons, the simplest methods are the best for this vegetable. No matter how cheap the raw spinach may be, it is always expensive in one thing—labor. It takes a good deal of time, water, and patience to wash it clean.

To clean the spinach cut off the roots, break the leaves apart and drop them into a large pan of water, rinse them well, and lift them into a second pan of water. Do not pour the water off over the spinach or the grit that has been washed off will get back on the leaves. Continue washing in clean waters until there is not a trace of sand on the bottom of the pan. If the spinach is at all wilted, let it stand in cold water until it becomes fresh and crisp. Drain from this water and blanch as follows:

For half a peck of spinach put in a large saucepan 3 quarts of boiling water and 1 tablespoon of salt. Put the drained spinach in the boiling water and let it boil 10 minutes, counting from the time it begins to boil. When it begins to boil, draw the cover of the saucepan a little to one side to allow the steam to escape. At the end of 10 minutes pour the spinach into a colander, and when the hot water has passed off pour cold water over it. Let it drain well and mince coarse or fine, then add the minced spinach and the salt and pepper. Cook for five minutes, then add the milk or cream, hot, and cook three minutes longer. Serve. Spinach With Egg.

Wash and blanch the spinach, using two teaspoons of the salt in the water in which the vegetable is boiled. Drain the blanched spinach and chop rather fine, return it to the saucepan, and add the salt, pepper and butter or other fat. Place on the fire and cook 10 minutes. Heap in a mound on a hot dish and garnish with the hard-boiled eggs cut in slices.

Spinach Cooked Without Water.

Fresh spinach when washed holds enough water for cooking. Put the spinach into a covered saucepan and cook for 10 minutes. Press down and turn the spinach over several times during the cooking. At the end of 10 minutes turn the spinach into a chopping bowl, and mince rather fine. Return to the saucepan and add the seasonings, allowing for half a peck of spinach two generous tablespoons of butter or other fat and a teaspoon of salt. Simmer for 10 minutes; or if very tender, 5 minutes will be sufficient.

Spinach cooked in this manner will retain all its salts and the flavor will be stronger than when blanched (boiled in water). In young, tender spinach this is not objectionable, but when the overgrown vegetable is cooked in its own moisture the flavor is strong and somewhat acid.

SENIORS OFFER EXCELLENT PROGRAM AT GRADUATING EXERCISES.

Vernon high school commencement exercises held Friday evening at More's Theater ranked among the best that have ever been presented by the local institution. Interested spectators filled the auditorium and occupied every possible point of vantage to witness the program.

The exercises were divided into two parts, the first being opened with music and invocation by Rev. E. L. Moore of the Presbyterian Church. Shirley McLarty followed with an excellent salutatory address which was very well received. Miss Mildred McLarty, valedictorian of the class, gave the farewell address in a well planned speech.

Awards Scholarships.

Scholarships were awarded Miss Mildred McLarty and Shirley McLarty by Superintendent B. F. Sisk to every institution of higher learning in the State. These were offered on the basis of the two highest percentages in school work in the class. The two honor students, of course, will take advantage of but one scholarship apiece. Diplomas to the graduates were presented by R. D. L. Killough, vice-president of the school board.

In the second part of the program, offered by members of the graduating class, the violin duet by Miss Mozelle Parker and Ethel Reese was perhaps the feature number. The young ladies played excellently and their offering was enthusiastically received by those present. A "Fortyfour" Album, given by Misses Frances Kemp and Ruth Carney gave a brief prospectus of the seniors and proved one of the best numbers because of the humor it offered.

Readings Well Rendered.

Miss Mandie Ladd who gave a reading added markedly to the attractiveness of the program with a very pleasing selection. Shirley McLarty, who read "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," well above the average in his manner and exhibited excellent delivery. Attractive numbers offered were and box chorus by ten seniors, and singing of the "ponies" by the senior class.

A Vernon Man's Experience

Can you doubt the evidence of this Vernon citizen?

You can verify Vernon endorsement. Read this:

J. J. Manis, owns Auto Accessory Store, North Bowie Street, Vernon, says: "Some years ago my back and kidneys were in bad shape caused from a strain. My back was so bad I could hardly turn over in bed. There was a heavy pain across my back and hips. My back was so sore and lame at night I couldn't sleep and mornings when I first got up I could hardly straighten. My kidneys were in awful shape and were inflamed, irregular and weak in action. The kidney secretions contained a sediment and were painful in passage. I used different kidney remedies but none of them did me any good. I finally bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Pendleton & Sons Drug Co. and two boxes of this medicine cured me of every symptom of kidney complaint. The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has been permanent."

TINKLING BELLS LATEST DECREE OF DAME FASHION

Unprecedented novelties in dress for the ultra-fashionable women, are promised for the Summer by Paris modistes. Probably the most unique decree of Dame Fashion for 1921 will be the tiny silver bells which will tinkle from Missy's hat and gown. The young miss in the photo is shown wearing a beautiful black satin gown and turban, by Joseph, from which dangled tiny silver bells, creating quite a sensation on Fifth avenue, New York. The crown of the black roll marabout turban was adorned with four tiny silver bells. The erise velvet band and streamers added attractiveness to the turban. From the streamers dangled two silver bells. The gown is of black satin trimmed with marabout bands and erise velvet sash, with four silver bells on the end. The cape is of black satin embroidered in green and gold and trimmed with marabout silk folds.

New Chair For University.

Austin, Texas, May 23.—Now that the State Federation of Labor at its annual convention in Galveston has given its official indorsement to the proposition of raising a fund of $100,000 for the endowment of a chair at the University of Texas in memory of the late Governor James S. Hogg, it is stated that immediate steps will be taken to raise this sum. According to Chris Callen of Austin, who originated the idea, the entire sum will be raised in short order. The fact that Governor Hogg began life as a printer in a country newspaper office causes the typographical fraternity and the labor element generally of the State to be in hearty sympathy with the movement in honor of his memory in the manner proposed. It is not known at this time what the nature of the prospective new chair in the University will be.

Urges Summer Coal Buying.

Electra, Texas, May 23.—At a special meeting held on Friday, May 13, the Board of Directors of the Electra Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture adopted a resolution urging members of the Chamber and citizens of Electra to lay in their winter's supply of coal at once. It was asserted that such a move would be taking advantage of summer prices giving employment to miners, and preventing the congestion of traffic which will inevitably occur if people follow the present tendency of waiting until Fall to buy their coal.

Will Give Annual Recitals.

The music pupils of Miss Enid McCarroll will be presented in recitals Thursday and Friday nights of this week. The beginning students will give a recital Thursday night and the intermediate and advanced pupils will give the entertainment Friday night. Both will be held in the Methodist Church at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. J. N. Grimes and son leave today for a visit in Muscogee, Okla. She will go from there to Kansas, and from the Sunflower State to Denver, Colorado, from whence she goes to California to make her home.

Every one is invited to both attendances.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Culbertson of Hamlin motored to Vernon to spend the week-end with their son, M. C. Culbertson.

BELIEVES HE HAS FOUND LONG LOST BROTHER

R. B. Thornell, local resident, concerning whom a story recently appeared in The Vernon Record in connection with his having been separated from all his relatives for 28 years, has received a wire from Arthur A. Thornell at Post requesting him to come there at once. The sender, says Mr. Thornell, is one of his brothers whom he has never known. In all probability, it is thought, Arthur A. Thornell read of the local man in the columns of The Record, and immediately communicated with his brother.

R. B. Thornell has wired in return for his brother to come to Vernon.

THE U.S. CHAIN TREAD
One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.
The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

GOOD ROADS IN FOARD.

The Foard County News uses some vitriol in taking The Record to task regarding the latter's statement to the effect that Foard county had voted $52,000 worth of bonds. The amount was $150,000, and it is with pleasure
that the correction is made.

Editor Kinney seems to have assumed, too, that The Record is not aware that Foard county has done any road building heretofore. Our plea to this charge is "not guilty." More than a year ago an automobile trip to Littlefield revealed to the writer a magnificent highway being constructed from Crowell to the Cottle county line. We understand, too, that much other work
has been done.

The Record is glad to compliment
Foard county on the roads its people have built, and points to them as an example which any county might aspire to follow. The fact is, however, that Foard county has just begun to build good roads—and the same may be said of any other county in Northwest Texas.

Nor is this saying that any one is asleep on the question good roads.
There yet remains so much to be done
that no community has done more than just scratch the surface. This is true of Foard county. The big thing about this bond issue is not its amount, although that is gratifying—but that the people are up and doing.

Wilbarger county must continue to build concrete highways. Our sand precludes any other system of highways, except in a few sections. And in these, the concrete road will be the final answer on all main highways.

The same may be said of every county in Texas, to a great extent. Let us hope that this fact is soon recognized.

THOSE RIO GRANDE VALLEY TOWNS.

Many members of the State Press Association smiled last summer at the idea of McAllen wanting to entertain the 1921 meeting of that organization.
McAllen is a town of about 5,000 people in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

"We will take you out of Dallas,
give you free entertainment while you are with us, and bring you back to Dallas without charge," the McAllen
boosters said. As a result the State Press Association began to take notice,
and when the offer was put in proper form the vote of acceptance was practically unanimous.

Then the bubble burst. With deflation putting everybody on the toboggan,
and railroad rates shooting skyward,
it began to look as though the McAllen offer could not be carried out. The executive committee was called to consider some other place for the June meeting.

Suffice it to say that the editors are going to McAllen next month on a solid Pullman train out of Dallas.
The Katy and Gulf Coast lines are making cash advertising contracts to pay the transportation charges, while McAllen and McAllen interests are furnishing the Pullman cars, free entertainment in the Valley, a trip to Brownsville, and a barbecue across

the Rio Grande in Mexico!

Wouldn't you like to go?

Nor is McAllen the only wonder town
of the Rio Grande Valley. Mission,
also about the size of Vernon, has a Rotary Club which is credited with twenty-two consecutive 100 per cent
meetings—the world's record!

Judging from these towns, the Lower Rio Grande has California
beaten to a frazzle, not only in climate soil, and nearness to market—but also in its people.

ONE RESULT OF HIGH RATES.

The old adage of a "silver lining"
seems to hold true as regards the enormously increased freight rates of which we complain so bitterly. A writer in one of the leading business publications points out that since it costs from 10 to 30 per cent of the value of a product to ship it from field
to mill, mills will be moved nearer the source of raw production.

This writer predicts that many of the great industrial centers will be practically dismantled, the various factories being moved to some point where raw material, fuel, and labor are all easily accessible. Surely this seems a reasonable view. Why should it be necessary to ship our raw cotton or hides to New England, have them
made up and then reshipped?

The South has the raw material,
fuel is easily accessible in not a few
sections, and the workman would find it greatly to his advantage in numerous ways to live in a district where he is a citizen first and a mill operative second.

Not only is the suggestion applicable to cotton and hides. It applies to breakfast foods, canned goods, and candies.

Experiments have proven that all of these may be put into final form for the consumer at numerous points in the South and Southwest. Certainly the time is opportune for the South
and Southwest to make use of its natural advantages in the race for industrial supremacy.

Recovers Car Stolen Year Ago.

A Ford roadster belonging to the Texas Star Petroleum Company of Wichita Falls was recovered here this week by Sheriff W. A. Ish. The car was taken from its owners May 26, 1920. The machine was brought to Vernon recently and sold to a farmer
who gave in exchange a Maxwell car
and $25. He was without a bill of sale
when he attempted to register the car,
and investigation by the sheriff disclosed that it was stolen property. No trace is had of the man who sold the

Measuring Cup And Spoons.

Cake making is not "pure luck." A half pint measuring cup (glass or metal) for measuring the flour and sugar and a standard set of spoons for measuring the butter and baking powder
will help in following a new recipe, say specialists in the Experimental Kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture.

B. O. Brown, Walter McElroy, Ranson Walker, and Harry Norwood drove to Crowell Saturday afternoon.

Women Magistrates

Mrs. E. L. Baldwin.

Every city of any size now has its women attorneys, but the election or appointment of women to the bench is still rare enough to attract wide attention. San Francisco boasts of Mrs. E. L. Baldwin, who is the
"ex-officio judge" of the juvenile court. Mrs. Baldwin has a reputation of tempering justice
with mercy in deciding the cases before her. A regular judges passes upon Mrs. Baldwin's decisions.

KIDDING A HOUSE OF ANTS:
ARSENATE OF SODA WILL DO IT

The ant may be a model of thrift and industry, but no housekeeper desires this particular model around her home. The following methods for ex-terminating the pest are given by the Bureau of Entomology, United States
Department of Agriculture:

The most effective way of ridding a house of ants is to find and destroy the nest by treating it with carbon bisulphid, benzine, gasoline, or kerosene. Or, if the nest itself can not be
traced to the opening or crack through which they enter. Squirting kerosene into it or plugging it with cotton saturated with the oil will in many cases
drive them away.

A temporary expedient for controlling ants is to moisten small sponges
with sweetened water and place them
where the ants are most numerous.
Attracted by the sugar, they will crawl
into the sponges and may be killed by dropping into boiling water. The sponges should be baited again with
the sweetened water and, if necessary,
set in different places until the colony
leaves the house.

A more effective, but also more dangerous, method is to moisten the sponges with a sirup made by dissolving 1 pound of sugar in 1 quart of hot water and adding 125 grains (about 1-4 ounce) of arsenate of soda. Some of the ants apparently carry this poisoned liquid back to the nest and feed it to the others there, thus gradually killing the entire colony. This mixture must be used with the greatest care, so it is poisonous to both human beings and domestic animals.

Ants are attracted by various food
substances, especially fat and sugars;
therefore these foods should be kept in closed containers and crumbs or small amounts spilled on shelves or tables cleaned off at once.

LET US DO YOUR BAKING

46-JUN-21

YES, let us do your Baking for you this Summer. Why toil and trouble over a mere few pennies, when you can get the best Bread and Cakes, etc., ever made at prices which are practically no higher than the cost of home making?

And it may seem strange that the women who are most expert and successful in baking their own Bread and other fine things are the first to come to us. The reason is obvious. They know good baked

POINTS OUT THREE GREAT WORDS THAT DEMAND ATTENTION

Rev. S. W. Hayne Tells Holcomb Seniors That Religion, Education, and Democracy Must Be Thoroughly Understood For Most Satisfactory Form of Government.

There are three great words that challenge our attention, Rev. S. W. Hayne told the graduating class of the Holcomb Training School in the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning at the Methodist church. The first of these is religion. In the words of Micah, he said, religion means to "do justice, love mercy and walk humbly with thy God." Religious education in a democracy, said the minister, means that our youth should be made to know the significance of this text.

The second word is education. Huxley's definition, said Mr. Hayne, is, "Education is the instruction of the intellect in the laws of nature, under which I include not merely things and their forces, but men and their ways; and the fashioning of the affection and the will into an earnest and loving desire to move in harmony with those laws. Education must be tried by this standard."

Theory of Democracy.

The third word, said the Methodist minister, is democracy. There was no real democracy, said the preacher, until the middle of the eighteenth century. The theory of the Greeks and Romans was that only the best man, or king, or a few best men, should govern the great majority of people who were regarded as unfit to conduct the affairs of the nation, or their own affairs.

Mr. Hayne then explained the theories of government involved in feudalism, self-government, Bentham's theory, and Brougham's theory. Education in democracy, he said, means the extension of public schools throughout the land, the education of women, and industrial and vocational training. Education, he pointed out, means more than intelligence.

Disregard Men's Rights.

There is too much disregard, said Mr. Hayne, of the fundamental rights of man. These are in regard to the person, such as murder, industry, where loss of life is greater than in war, child welfare, and protection of women in industry. There is a disregard of the rights of man in regard to property, too, as is involved in gambling in stocks and food stuffs. The disregard of the rights of family are indicated by the prevalence of divorces. Many newspapers, said Mr. Hayne, have little respect for reputation and carry on campaigns of falsification. Newspapers as a whole, though, said the minister, are a wonderful institution.

Then there is the failure due to inadequate educational ideals, said Mr. Hayne. When we consider the grave questions that people in a democracy must consider and have considered, we realize the deep need of the right kind of education. We must realize the duty of those who came first to those who came later.

Nothing can take the place of individual conversion, said the preacher. Conversion gives an impulse to righteousness, but does not educate in the laws of righteousness or their application to the complex conditions of modern life. We need the power to know and to do the right.

Importance of Colleges.

The place of the Christian colleges was noted by the minister who reviewed the earliest schools in the land. He pointed out the materialistic tendencies in the last half century and showed how religion is entirely divorced from the American school and state university and secular institutions. The law of the jungle is the law of commercial life, he said.

Christian education, said the minister in closing is a return to Americanism in the truest sense. We need Christian colleges, brave and strong, to teach the fundamental ideals of Jesus as they apply to social and individual life.

Will Honor Methodist Workers.

Workers in the Methodist education at drive which will commence Sunday, May 29, will be the guests of honor Friday evening at a supper in the parlors of the local Methodist church. There will be no outside speakers but a program has been planned for the occasion. Those present will make plans for the commencement of the drive Sunday.

Fall From Automobile.

While engaged in a friendly scuffle with a friend in an automobile Sunday the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Reed on West Olive Street fell from the car and suffered a broken collar bone. The car passed across the boy.

BARBED WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS SURROUND CARPENTER'S QUARTERS.

Elaborate barriers are being erected around the old Mathews Estate, Manhasset, Long Island, to insure peace and quiet for Georges Carpentier, the French champion, who is training there for his title bout with Jack Dempsey on July 2. A high board fence has been erected around the barns on the estate, which have been fitted up as gymnasiums, wherein Georges will do most of his training. Barbed wire has been added to the picket fence in front of the house in which Carpentier will live during the training period. There is nothing secret about Georges' preparations, it was said at the camp, but he does not want the confusion of visitors or to have to do anything but what he pleases while training. The photograph shows the barbed wire, which stretches across the top of the picket fence in front of the house in which Carpentier will live during the training period. The house is shown in the background.

Boy To Couple North of Town.

A boy was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Ritchie living five miles north of town.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Central Christian Church will have a market in Massie-Vernon's Grocery Store from 2 to 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Charles Holder of Quanah spent the week-end in Vernon.

W. J. Bonner of Lawton, Okla.,

brother of L. P. Bonner, local attorney, is visiting his relatives in this city. Mr. Bonner first came through Vernon in 1888 and for twelve years made his home at Quanah. From there he moved into what he terms "Comanche" country in Oklahoma.

Studio Open For Summer.

Why not have your children make the summer vacation profitable to them by studying some musical instrument

Thos. A. Edison says, "I believe that you should have each of your children taught some musical instrument such as the harp, violin, cello, flute, cornet, clarinet or saxophone, etc."

All great men and women the world over recognize the wonderful influence of music study in character building of children.

I am planning to organize a band, also a young ladies band and orchestra. If interested call to see or phone me within the next few days.

GUINEAS NEED LITTLE CARE; PROFITABLE NEAR BIG CITIES

Guinea Fowls Usually Raised in Small Flocks on Large Farms—Tendency to Mate in Pairs—Guineas Begin to Lay Late in Spring.

Many hotels and restaurants in the large cities are eager to secure prime young guineas, and they are often served at banquets and club dinners as a special delicacy. When well cooked, guineas are attractive in appearance, although darker than common fowls. The flesh of young birds is tender and of especially fine flavor, resembling that of wild game. Like all other fowl, old guineas are very likely to be tough and rather dry.

A few of the large poultry raisers, particularly those who are within easy reach of the large eastern markets, make a practice of raising a hundred or so guineas each year, but the great majority of guineas are raised in small flocks of from 10 to 25 upon farms in the Middle West and in the South.

Pearl Is Most Popular Variety.
Domesticated guinea fowl are of three varieties—Pearl, White, and Lavender. The Pearl is by far the most popular. It has a purplish gray plumage regularly dotted or "pearled" with white and is so handsome that frequently the feathers are used for ornamental purposes.

Guinea hens usually begin laying in April, or May, those in the South laying earlier than those in the North. A short time before the opening of the laying period the hens with their mates begin searching for suitable nesting places among the weeds and brush along the fences or in the fields. In this search the male takes as active an interest as his mate, and when a suitable location is found both help to dig out the nest and make it into suitable shape.

Each day as the hen goes to the nest to lay the male accompanies her and remains near by until she comes off. Should anyone approach he shrieks in warning and thus betrays the whereabouts of the nest, which might otherwise be difficult to locate. If several guinea hens are mated with one male they usually all lay in the same nest, but some times a hen after mating will wander off by herself to make her own nest. At times a male bird, after helping one hen to make her nest, will then desert her and pair off with another hen to make another nest.

From 20 to 30, and often more, eggs are laid before the guinea hen becomes broody, at which time she can be easily broken of her broodiness by removing the eggs from her nest, when she will soon begin laying again. If not allowed to sit, guinea hens will continue to lay throughout the summer, laying from 40 to 60 and in some cases 100 eggs during the season, say poultry specialists in United States Department of Agriculture.

Ordinary hens are used, commonly, to incubate guinea eggs, but guinea hens, turkey hens, and incubators also can be employed successfully. The usual setting for a guinea hen is about 14 eggs; for a hen of one of the general-purpose breeds, such as a Plymouth Rock, 18 eggs; and for a turkey hen, about 24 eggs. The incubation period for guinea eggs is 28 days, although frequently they start hatching on the 26th day and are all hatched by the end of the 27th day.

If the nest in which the guinea hen becomes broody is safe from any disturbance, she may be trusted with a setting of eggs, and more than likely will hatch out every egg that is fertile, provided all hatch at about the same time. As soon as the guinea chicks begin to leave the nest the hen will leave with them, and any eggs that are left in the nest will be ruined unless they are placed in an incubator or under a broody hen before they become chilled.

Guinea Hens Are Only Fair Mothers.
Guinea hens usually are too wild to be set anywhere except in the nest where they have become broody, and often such a nest is unsafe. Because of these disadvantages and the fact that guinea hens do not make the most satisfactory mothers for guinea chicks, ordinary hens are most often used to do the incubating and the brooding, at least until late in the summer, when the guinea hens often are allowed to sit and raise a brood without much attention being given them.

Ordinary hens make the best mothers for guinea chicks. Given warm, dry weather and plenty of range, turkey and guinea hens can be used successfully, but should a rain or heavy dew occur the mother turkey or guinea hen is apt to drag the chicks through the wet grass, and many are lost from becoming wet and chilled. Neither turkey nor guinea hens can be induced to seek the shelter of a coop at night and during storms, but will remain out in the fields to hover their broods wherever they happen to be when nightfall overtakes them.

New Organization, Taking Full Control, Turns Prices Back Three Years

The last step in the Maxwell reorganization was the sale of the Maxwell properties to the new and powerful organization, May 12.

The first step of the new organization was to raise the value of the good Maxwell still higher, by restoring prices to the former low level of 1918.

The reduction is $150 on each of the four models, effective at once.

This is the second price revision made by the new organization; and the total reduction from the high level, since Sept. 28, 1920, has been $310 on open cars and $350 on closed cars.

What this latest action means, literally, is turning back Maxwell prices to the basis of 1918.

The truth is that the good Maxwell today is a better car than it was three years ago.

It has been given a new goodness, by lowering costs, by increasing plant efficiency, and by greatly improving the manufacturing practices.

The new organization now owns the great Maxwell plants outright. Its way is clear to carry out in full its larger plans and policies.

It pledges itself never to stop working for the further betterment of the good Maxwell, and for the greater satisfaction of present and future owners of this good car.

which a marketing organization can serve its members, said Mr. Moser. It will first completely eliminate country damage which everyone pays for now; it will close the differential between the high and low grades of cotton in which there is an immense discrepancy now; it will eliminate the "city crop," or smutling, which now runs over 300,000 bales a year in the South; and it will eliminate unnecessary handling of products and save a great amount of expense by making it possible to class the cotton only once.

The essential principle is handling a non-perishable crop such as cotton is, said the Bureau secretary, are financing, warehousing, and merchandising. Explaining the warehousing system, Mr. Moser said that stock would be offered, both common and preferred. Part of the common stock will be put in the hands of farmers who will vote it all. The rest will be put into the treasury of the organization. The preferred stock will be offered to the public and will carry eight per cent interest. It will be issued in five series, one series to be retired each year. The cotton in the warehouse is the collateral for the interest and sinking fund. Charges on cotton put into the warehouse will serve to provide this interest and sinking fund and common stock will be offered the farmers in return for the charges made for storing cotton.

Two Finance Methods.

There are two methods of financing such an organization, Mr. Moser pointed out. There is first the draft and acceptance plan in which the farmer gets for his cotton a warehouse receipt or a freight bill to which he attaches a draft for the amount due him. This, then is sent to the marketing organization which indorses it and attaches a list of the banks which will discount the paper.

The other method was originated by the Federal Reserve Bank Board and deals with bankers' acceptances. Certain banks are termed acceptance banks and it is with these that the marketing organization makes arrangement for the issuance of credit. The farmer, then, simply draws on the bank in the same way, but the acceptance bank simply guarantees the draft and sends it to the discount bank for payment. Thus the acceptance banks in reality pay out no money. Either method, said Mr. Moser, is a vast improvement over the present system.

Applies Business Methods.

In all events, said the State secretary in closing, a farmers' organization such as the one advocated is simply an application of modern business methods to the marketing of crops. This is the psychological era for the farmer, and the move for co-operation is one of the benefits of the war. The farmer has been driven to this action to protect himself, he said.

Following his address, Mr. Moser answered questions on the part of the audience, and explained the organization of two national wheat marketing associations now in existence in this country as well as the methods of financing these bodies.

WILL OFFER ELEMENTARY COURSES IN CLOTHING

Austin, Texas, May 24.—Elementary courses in clothing, foods, dietetics and home nursing will be offered in the Department of Home Economics during the University of Texas summer school. This is the first time that a course in home nursing has been offered in the summer session. In the elementary course in clothing a new plan is to be followed. One-third of the course will be devoted to the study of textiles and will include a complete study of the various materials from the raw product, through the manufacture, and up to the finished products. Chemical tests of the materials will also be made. The remainder of the course is to be taken up with the making of simple garments.

The prerequisites which were formerly connected with the course in home nursing have been removed, so that it is expected that many students will avail themselves of the opportunity to get practical instruction in the care of the sick in the home. In the elementary course in foods, practice in the serving of foods will be given during the second term of the summer session, following a study of foods and their preparation during the first term.

Women Magistrates

The theory that the legal mind is necessarily masculine in gender has been exploded in the last few years by a number of women lawyers who have made good in their chosen profession, some being elected judges of various courts. In New York City the trying task of weighing justice to the many women who are brought before her rests on the shoulders of Magistrate Jean Norris, of the Women's Court. Mrs. Norris is the first woman ever selected to sit on the judges' bench in a criminal or civil court in New York State. She is a widow and has been practicing law for more than fourteen years.

Standing in the receiving line were Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Dewey Wilson, President of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Ben Elliott, president of the Westminster Guild, Mrs. J. M. Cooke and Mrs. C. P. Stewart. Miss Frances Hicks and Mrs. Walter McCaleb were at the punch bowl and Miss Olive Shive and Mrs. A. B. Swartwood presided at a registry table where each lady was asked to put her name in a guest book. In the dining room Mrs. Della Housels, assisted by Members of the Westminster Guild, served ice cream and cake. At the close of the afternoon the guest of honor was presented with a potted fern and the guest book. Wild sun flowers were used for decorations in the reception rooms to carry out the color scheme of orange and green and in the dining room park spur was combined with green for decoration.

WHAT DO YOU THINK IS A WELL-FURNISHED HOUSE?

Well-furnished houses are not cluttered with things which may be useful or attractive in themselves, but which nobody uses or enjoys. They are, rather, those that contain only things necessary for convenience in working and for comfort and satisfaction in living, and no more.

A house that is well planned, perfectly convenient and comfortable, will also be beautiful. Beauty does not lie so much in the ornaments put on a thing as in the perfect adaptation of that thing to the use for which it is intended.

If a woman tries sincerely to arrange her house according to this idea of adaptation to use, she need not worry about its being "pretty," say household experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. She may not be rich enough to have expensive things, but if she uses harmonious colors for her walls, floors, and upholstery, and chooses furniture for its good design and comfort rather than for its ornamentation, her house can scarcely fail to be restful and attractive. And if with limited means she succeeds in making a convenient, comfortable, and attractive home out of an unpromising, inconvenient farmhouse, she has more to be proud of than if, with the help of an expensive decorator, she had achieved good effects in a house equipped with all modern improvements.

Moral Character or Steel Doors

WHICH is the better protection for valuables—safety vaults with steel doors or Christian men of moral character? The greatest security for mortgages and bonds is not the physical properties like railroads and factories on which they are issued, but the moral character of the people. When a majority of the people of any nation have bad moral ideals, no investment is safe.

Why are investments in Russia and Mexico not good? Not for lack of physical property or natural resources. Europe is nervous about their securities because they fear lest the tragic events of the last six years have disturbed the religious faith and moral moorings of the people.

The best protection against anarchy, Bolshevism, radicalism, I. W. W.-ism, red revolution, is Christian Education. It lays the foundation of society upon the Rock of Ages—upon righteousness, law and order, co-operation and unselfishness.

The Christian Education Movement of the M. E. Church, South, is raising $33,000,000 for this great cause. It will equip and maintain the finest and most thoroughly Christian system of schools and colleges in America.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL MEETS DEFEAT IN HARD PLAYED GAME

Belton Outclasses Locals In Contest Featured By Vernon's Errors—Coach Winston's Lads Unable To Hit Ball At Critical Periods—Game Does Not Alter Standing.

Vernon high school's baseball team met defeat Monday afternoon at the hands of Belton high by the score of 8 to 3 in a hard played game at the fairgrounds in which the visitors outclassed the local players almost from the start. It was evidently Vernon's off day in fielding and hitting, and after the sixth inning, when Belton sent three counters over the plate, the contest was never in doubt. Moser, visiting pitcher, kept Vernon's blows well scattered and the local batters were never dangerous with the exception of the first inning. Baird, the local southpaw, pitched in excellent form, but his support wobbled at critical periods when air tight playing was essential.

Vernon's battery, Captain Curtis and Baird, performed in its usual consistent form, and Cabe and Larrimore showed up well in the infield. Small made a beautiful catch in the sixth inning of a long fly that would have meant several runs had he missed it.

Belton Gets Breaks.
Belton played in form that deserved to win and apparently received the benefits of several close breaks in the game. The visitors showed themselves to be a clean, hard playing aggregation and of exceptional calibre for a high school team. The attendance in the grand stand and on the field was estimated at 1,500, and there were probably 300 more persons lining the fence around the outfield.

Following is the game by innings:

First Inning.
Robertson struck out. Dyer struck out. Smith struck out. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Small hit to center field. Larrimore sacrificed. Curtis connected for a two bagger. Small scoring. Curtis and Smith worked a perfect squeeze. Curtis scored. Delmaso grounded out. Two hits, two runs, no errors.

Second Inning.
Perry was safe on a scratch hit to Baird. Perry stole second. Lawler struck out. Moser struck out. Lewis flew out to Delmaso. One hit, no runs, no errors.

Cabe struck out. Farrell struck out. Hiatt walked. Baird flew out. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Third Inning.
Westbrook walked. Wilbanks attempted a sacrifice but Westbrook was thrown out at second. Wilbanks stole second. Robertson was safe on an infield hit. Wilbanks going to third. Wilbanks scored on a passed ball that hit the plate. Dyer hit to left field and Robertson scored. Smith struck out and Dyer took third. Perry hit a high fly which Farrell missed. Dyer scoring. Lawler flew out to Curtis. Three hits, three runs, two errors.

Small got an infield hit and stole second. He took third on a passed ball. On an attempted hit and run, Small was caught between home and third. Larrimore struck out. Curtis was safe on the shortstop's error. Smith grounded out to Moser. No hits, no runs, one error.

Fourth Inning.

Delmaso grounded out to the pitcher. Cabe hit to right field and stole second and third. Cabe scored on a bad throw to catch him at third. Farrell struck out. Hiatt struck out. One hit, one run, one error.

Fifth Inning.
Wilbanks was out. Curtis to Cabe. Robertson hit to right field and stole second. Dyer hit to Baird who threw out Robertson at third. Dyer stole second and third. Smith struck out. One hit, no runs, one error.

Baird struck out. Small grounded out. Larrimore was out. Pitcher to first baseman. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Sixth Inning.
Perry was safe when Delmaso dropped a high fly. Lawler hit to Baird who threw Perry out at second. On an attempted double play Smith threw over Cabe's head. Lawler going to second. Moser flew out. Lawler stole third. Lewis hit to center field and

LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW FICTION LIST

BOOKS OF INTERESTING QUALITY ARE OFFERED FOR SUMMER READING.

Following is a list of books received in the free public library here and brief synopsis of each prepared by Miss Lillian Newton, librarian. The first book is:

"Seed of the Sun" by Wallace Irwin. Mr. Irwin tells the story of two plucky New York girls, who go west to work the fruit ranch they inherit. There is action, outdoor life and adventure in their experiences. Incidentally Mr. Irwin describes the activities of a Japanese society which supports Japanese schools and Buddhist temples for the spread of the doctrine of the Divine Emperor, and in general operates to force out American fruit growers from the richest soil in the coast states.

"Sister Sue" by Eleanor H. Porter. Mrs. Porter considered "Sister Sue" (completed just before her death) the best story she had written. Sister Sue is one of those rainbow characters of great and shining beauty that Mrs. Porter created with so sure a hand.

"The Bar to Three" by Clarence Mulford. Wild west atmosphere coupled with rugged cowboy humor flood the stories of Hopalong Cassidy, Red Comors, and John Nelson. And in this latest account of their adventures, the famous three from the old Bar do more than justify their former reputations.

"The Pagan Madonna" by Harold Mac Grath. A mystery story of unusual interest.

"You Never Saw Such a Girl" by George Weston. A bright cheerful happy romance.

"The Top of the World" a new novel by Ethel M. Dell.

WILBARGER HARVEST TO START WITHIN WEEK OR TEN DAYS

Farmers Now Busy Overhauling Machinery and Putting All In Readiness For Commencement of Operations—Most of Wheat Is Thought To Be Worth Cutting.

Harvest in Wilbarger county is expected to start in earnest within a week or ten days, and farmers are already hard at work preparing for their "busy season." Supplies are being purchased, machinery overhauled, and all put into readiness for the inauguration of cutting. Many will commence the harvest of oats this week, and a few will begin cutting wheat.

According to the county agent, wheat in most of the localities is looking better than was anticipated several weeks ago. There will be what is considered a "fair crop," and in some instances it will probably average as high as fifteen or twenty bushels to the acre. This, however, will be a high yield. Most of the wheat, it is thought, will be worth cutting although on some farms it will make practically nothing. Early planted wheat is expected to produce considerably better than the crop put in later. Wheat in the Wanders creek section is said to be particularly good. There is a small amount of rye and barley that will also be harvested in the county.

Labor is expected to be plentiful during the coming harvesting season. The great amount of unemployment in the county is expected to more than supply the demand for hands.

Rain is needed badly over Wilbarger county, although there has been a noticeable slackening of complaint on the part of farmers, due probably to the absence of extremely dry winds during the last two weeks. In some sections, also, there is a surprisingly large amount of moisture still in the ground.

Early Cotton Excellent.
Cotton in the county, where planted early, has an excellent stand. Many farmers, however, have abandoned this crop and planted corn, maize, and other grains in its place. In some localities oats that bid fair to produce nothing are being plowed up and cotton planted in their stead. This will serve to increase the cotton acreage slightly above the estimate placed upon it earlier in the season.

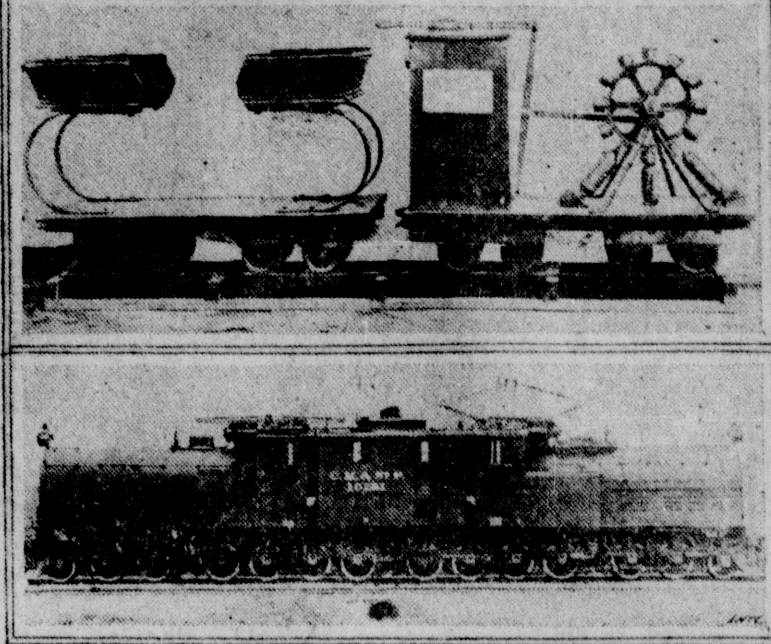

Alfalfa in the county has had one cutting, and is nearly ready for another. Gardens, too, are doing well. If it is thought there will be more peaches than at first anticipated, especially in the immediate vicinity of Vernon. The pear crop will be somewhat short, but there is expected to be a plentiful supply of this fruit. There are but few apricots in Wilbarger county.

9-YEAR-OLD WASHINGTON GIRL WONDERFUL RIDER

OLDEST AND NEWEST IN ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES.

The above photos show the first and the latest in electric locomotives. On top is a photo of the earliest type of successfully operated electric engine in the world. It was built by Moses G. Farmer, of Vermont, in 1847, and was ten feet long. It established its claims to the fatherhood of electric traction by antedating German claims for similar honors by thirty years. The lower photo shows the modern electric locomotive, the largest in the world and built seventy-five years later than the machine shown in the upper photo. This big engine hauls long trains over the Western mountains at a seventy-mile-an-hour clip. It is seventy-six feet long and weighs 290 tons.

CITY VOTES MONEY FOR PARKS' UPKEEP

MRS. W. H. HUGGINS WILL HAVE SUPERVISION OVER THE PROPERTY.

City commissioners voted yesterday morning to appropriate $30 a month toward the support of the Shive and Allingham parks in this city, and supervision of the ground was placed in the hands of Mrs. W. H. Huggins. This order was made effective June 1.

The Allingham park was purchased in 1912 by a league of women in Vernon from W. H. Snodgrass, and the property deeded to the city. It is now an attractive addition to the community. Shive park was turned over to the city by T. H. Shive and is also an attractive piece of property. Both parks are in the west part of town.

Will Lay Sewer.
The city engineer was instructed by the commissioners to run a water and sewer line up Yamparika Street west as far as block 11, or South Tolar Street. The distance will be practically 1,000 feet. Work on the project will be started as soon as the pipe arrives. It is ordered from a San Antonio company.

INFORMAL FARM BUREAU MEETING HELD SATURDAY

Many farmers in town Saturday met in the district court room in the afternoon and held an informal meeting in the interest of the Texas Farm Bureau meeting. No gathering had been announced, but under the general impression that there would be "something doing," the room was nearly filled.

Guy R. Jones, county agent, and T. F. Davis, speaker on one of the county teams, addressed those present, and were followed by several of those in the audience. The meeting—lasted about two hours.

Injured By Falling Machinery.

Vaughn Barn Burns Saturday.

A barn belonging to Sid Vaughn living on the corner of East Yamparika and South Eagle Streets was almost destroyed by fire about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. Only the children of the family were home when the blaze occurred. The structure was an old one and most of the loss suffered was to a quantity of feed stored in the barn.

To Give Recital.

Mrs. Guy Puckett's piano pupils will give a private recital at her home Friday afternoon. Fifteen will take part in the entertainment to which have been invited the parents and a few friends.

WILL DEEPEN TEST ON BURTON LEASE

HOLE SOUTH OF TOWN HAS BEEN ABANDONED SINCE LAST OCTOBER.

The test on the holdings of W. G. Burton and associates, south of town in Section 13, block 17, will be deepened in the near future, according to Mr. Burton who is in town, and the company is contemplating putting down another test, the location for which has not been determined. W. E. Cabeen, one of Mr. Burton's associates, is also here.

The Burton well south of town is now 850 feet deep and was abandoned about the latter part of last October. It will be taken down to 2,150 feet, the contract depth. J. E. Watts and company have the contract for deepening the hole.

Will Commence In Two Weeks.

The Burton holdings are directly north of the Pyramid and are considered by their owners to be particularly favorably located. Work on the hole is expected to commence in about two weeks.

PUCKETTS HAVE OPENING.

Grocery Store Is At Home to Patrons And Friends On First Day In New And Modern Location.

Guy and Chauncey Puckett, proprietors of Puckett Brothers Grocery Store, were at home to patrons and friends yesterday afternoon, the first day of business in their new location which is one door south of the old store building in which they have been transacting business. Mrs. Guy Puckett, assisted by Miss Lois Morrison, presided at a punch bowl which was entwined with sprays of asparagus ferns and was placed on a table at the front of the store. The ladies who called were also presented with cape jasmine blossoms.

The features of the Puckett store in its new location are its spaciousness, its neatness and its cleanliness. The dimensions are thirty feet by a hundred and ten feet and a partition through the center divides the building, thus providing for a ware room in rear. The two side walls of the front room and also the partition wall, save the counter opening into the office room and the door leading to the rear room, are fitted with shelves up to a height of about twelve feet and on these are arranged canned, bottled, and boxed goods. A circuit of these walls gives the customer a view of the complete stock of goods carried in these lines.

The refrigerator has a place in the partition wall and the cake rack stands near the front window. A long wrapping counter extends along the north side of the store and in the center of the room is the fresh fruit and vegetable rack, back of which is the cash register. These, together with the counter and the cake rack, are the only things occupying floor space, a large per cent of which is left open. The floors are of concrete, and the shelving and counters are stained dark to show the natural grain of the wood.

TELLS FARMERS THEY ARE LIVING IN DIFFERENT AGE

State Farm Bureau Secretary Says Principles of Federation Are Simply Those Of Business Applied To Agriculture—Relates Essentials To Be Observed In Association.

Farmers of today must realize we are living in an entirely different age, C. O. Moser, secretary and manager of the Texas Farm Bureau, told an audience Saturday morning in the district court room. Mr. Moser passed through Vernon on his way to Quanah to conduct a meeting. Formerly, he said, England financed our cotton and provided a ready market but now that country is not able to meet its obligations and can lend but little assistance. In the meantime the United States must hold the cotton until it is needed.

There is nothing new in the co-operative system of marketing, the State secretary asserted. It has been carried on in Europe for many years and was brought to this country and to California twenty-six years ago. The Rochdale system of marketing, started in England by a band of weavers, has now become a tremendous enterprise in itself, and has been put into use in this country. It, however, is not as efficient as the Danish system which eliminates one community from competing with another.

Same As Science.

The principles of marketing, said Mr. Moser, are the same as those of science. There are a number of essentials to be observed in the formation of a marketing association and these are as follows:

First, there must be the realization that the purchaser is interested in quality and price before all else. Where the product comes from is of secondary importance.

Second, the association must be formed of growers only. Business men who are financially interested in the growing of crops are eligible for membership in a commodity marketing system.

Third, products of like quality and grade should be kept in separate pools and sold separately. Each man, then, receives from his product in proportion to the pool it is put into.

Quality Pays.

Fourth, farmers will learn that it pays to raise the better grades of cotton. The price received for the better grades is corresponding to their quality.

Fifth, there can be no conflict of interests between members of the association. The organization must be for the benefit of all.

Sixth, there must be the realization that experts for marketing the crop can be employed as surely by a farmers' marketing association as by any other kind. Furthermore, it is to be noted that these experts prefer working for producers other than different interests.

Seventh, it is necessary to have a legally enforceable, iron clad contract between the members and the association. Otherwise it would be impossible for the organization to make contracts for future deliveries and otherwise carry on its business. It would be impossible, said Mr. Moser, to organize a bank on a one year basis and the same principle applies to the Federation. This Federation, he said, will be the largest organization of its kind in the world, and will thus be able to accomplish many things that no other one can.

Explains Organization.

The State secretary explained carefully the details concerning the Federation's organization. There are eighteen directors, he said, who receive office through election by the farmers from each congressional district in the State. There are also two directors at large, making twenty in all. At present there are more than 50,000 members in the Texas bureau, representing the largest organization of its kind ever formed in the State.

Four Essential Principles.

Mr. Moser reviewed the great success of the marketing association in California. It is no longer an experiment, he said, but a well established business. It is said that in California there are more boys and girls in the colleges and universities who come from the country than there are from the city.

There are four essential methods in

Today—Dorothy Gish in "Flying Pat."

This is a gingery, jazzery, just-wed romance that shoots high in the air and explodes with fun. All because her new husband wanted her to have a career beside one in the kitchen the young bride started out, with a dash—ing young captain as her instructor, to be the world's champion woman flyer. Then there is a wreck and a road-house and a scandal as a result. Her husband is furious and she flees from home only to return and seek a job as cook in her own household. When her repentant husband discovers her there—well, there is a happy ending.

Wednesday—"The Race of the Age."

"The Race of the Age" is a picture of the race between Man of War and Sir Barton at Windsor, Ont., and a sum of $10,000 was paid to the Kenilworth Jockey Club for the motion picture rights of the event. For several days before the race every portion of the track was guarded to make sure that no cameras of any kind or size were gotten on the ground by persons other than those who had paid for the rights. Fourteen cameras were employed in taking the race itself. These were placed at every point of vantage.

According to this story Mr. Reid inherits a girls' school from one of his aunts. Believing that all young women should devote more time to making themselves charming he converts the institution into a charm school and changes all the methods of instruction. There is a wealth of romance, a breezy plot and many other delightful features.

Today—Chas. Ray in "The Old Swimmin' Hole."

These are the happiest days in the world sparkling on the screen for the boys and girls who like to look back to the days they spent in the school room and the hours of fun they enjoyed before and after the bell rang. They are put into pictures by Chas. Ray in the dramatization of James Whitcomb Riley's poem, "The Old Swimmin' Hole."

Wednesday—"The Midnight Riders." This is a sensational picture featuring a band of mounted madmen who open the story with fight for the company's pay-roll. They made a desperate escape down the steep sides of Bald Mountain and meet at midnight in their secret cave. A beautiful girl spy is captured by them and she succeeds in learning the secrets of the order. A sheep king is also kidnapped but is saved by the "squealing" of a Mexican who betrays the midnight riders to save himself.

Thursday—Elaine Hammerstein in "Poor Dear Margaret Kirby."

Miss Hammerstein is seen in the role of a popular society matron who lives only for her social activities. Due to business troubles of her husband she is forced to turn her home into a boarding house, a fact for which she is frequently upbraided by her husband, who, being an invalid because of an attempt at suicide, is confined to his room and does not understand the degree of his business failure. Margaret Kirby also suffers the torture which comes from the tongue-wagging of unfaithful friends, but the ending is happy.

EAT PLENTY OF SPINACH AND KEEP WELL AND HEALTHY

Spinach Valuable Adjunct to More Substantial Foods in Diet—Rarely Cooked to Perfection. Yet Not Difficult to Prepare. How to Cook Spinach Right Way.

One of the first vegetables in the garden or on the market in the early spring is that reliable stand-by—spinach. The shoots should be cut regularly; if not, the old shoots become tough and rank flavored.

Spinach furnishes little body energy, but it is exceptionally rich in iron and in one of the most important vitamins, and so is a valuable food, say specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture. It contains little as is suitable for the manner in which it is to be served.

One peck of spinach will make about 1 1/2 pints when blanched and minced.

Spinach With Cream.

1/2 peck spinach, 2 tablespoons butter or other fat, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 pint cream or milk.

Blanch and mince the spinach. Put the butter or other fat in a saucepan and on the fire. When hot add the flour and stir until smooth and frothy, starch and only a suggestion of sugar, and is therefore one of the vegetables that physicians include in the bill of fare of many invalids who require a diet without these carbohydrates.

Cheap In First Cost.

Like most other vegetables, it is rarely cooked to perfection, yet it is not difficult to prepare. Except for special reasons, the simplest methods are the best for this vegetable. No matter how cheap the raw spinach may be, it is always expensive in one thing—labor. It takes a good deal of time, water, and patience to wash it clean.

To clean the spinach cut off the roots, break the leaves apart and drop them into a large pan of water, rinse them well, and lift them into a second pan of water. Do not pour the water off over the spinach or the grit that has been washed off will get back on the leaves. Continue washing in clean waters until there is not a trace of sand on the bottom of the pan. If the spinach is at all wilted, let it stand in cold water until it becomes fresh and crisp. Drain from this water and blanch as follows:

For half a peck of spinach put in a large saucepan 3 quarts of boiling water and 1 tablespoon of salt. Put the drained spinach in the boiling water and let it boil 10 minutes, counting from the time it begins to boil. When it begins to boil, draw the cover of the saucepan a little to one side to allow the steam to escape. At the end of 10 minutes pour the spinach into a colander, and when the hot water has passed off pour cold water over it. Let it drain well and mince coarse or fine.

then add the minced spinach and the salt and pepper. Cook for five minutes, then add the milk or cream, hot, and cook three minutes longer. Serve.

Spinach With Egg.

1/2 peck spinach, 3 tablespoons butter or other fat, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs, 3 teaspoons salt.

Wash and blanch the spinach, using two teaspoons of the salt in the water in which the vegetable is boiled. Drain the blanched spinach and chop rather fine, return it to the saucepan, and add the salt, pepper and butter or other fat. Place on the fire and cook 10 minutes. Heap in a mound on a hot dish and garnish with the hard-boiled eggs cut in slices.

Spinach Cooked Without Water.

Fresh spinach when washed holds enough water for cooking. Put the spinach into a covered saucepan and cook for 10 minutes. Press down and turn the spinach over several times during the cooking. At the end of 10 minutes turn the spinach into a chopping bowl, and mince rather fine. Return to the saucepan and add the seasonings, allowing for half a peck of spinach two generous tablespoons of butter or other fat and a teaspoon of salt. Simmer for 10 minutes; or if very tender, 5 minutes will be sufficient.

Spinach cooked in this manner will retain all its salts and the flavor will be stronger than when blanched (boiled in water). In young, tender spinach this is not objectionable, but when the overgrown vegetable is cooked in its own moisture the flavor is strong and somewhat acid.

Had Informal Dance.

SENIORS OFFER EXCELLENT PROGRAM AT GRADUATING EXERCISES.

Vernon high school commencement exercises held Friday evening at More's Theater ranked among the best that have ever been presented by the local institution. Interested spectators filled the auditorium and occupied every possible point of vantage to witness the program.

The exercises were divided into two parts, the first being opened with music and invocation by Rev. E. L. Moore of the Presbyterian Church. Shirley McLarty followed with an excellent salutatory address which was very well received. Miss Mildred McLarty, valedictorian of the class, gave the farewell address in a well planned speech.

Awards Scholarships.

Scholarships were awarded Miss Mildred McLarty and Shirley McLarty by Superintendent B. F. Sisk to every institution of higher learning in the State. These were offered on the basis of the two highest percentages in school work in the class. The two honor students, of course, will take advantage of but one scholarship apiece. Diplomas to the graduates were presented by R. D. L. Killough, vice-president of the school board.

In the second part of the program, offered by members of the graduating class, the violin duet by Miss Mozelle Parker and Ethel Reese was perhaps the feature number. The young ladies played excellently and their performing was enthusiastically received by those present. A "Fortyfour" Album, given by Misses Frances Kemp and Ruth Carney gave a brief prospectus of the seniors and proved one of the best numbers because of the humor it offered.

Readings Well Rendered.

Miss Mandie Ladd who gave a reading added markedly to the attractiveness of the program with a very pleasant selection. Shirley McLarty, who read "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," well above the average in his manner and exhibited excellent delivery. Her attractive numbers offered were and box chorus by ten seniors, and ending of the "ponies" by the senior class.

Fargo News

Man's Experience

Can you doubt the evidence of this Vernon citizen?

You can verify Vernon endorsement. Read this:

J. J. Manis, owns Auto Accessory Store, North Bowie Street, Vernon, says: "Some years ago my back and kidneys were in bad shape caused from a strain. My back was so bad I could hardly turn over in bed. There was a heavy pain across my back and hips. My back was so sore and lame at night I couldn't sleep and mornings when I first got up I could hardly straighten. My kidneys were in awful shape and were inflamed, irregular and weak in action. The kidney secretions contained a sediment and were painful in passage. I used different kidney remedies but none of them did me any good. I finally bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Pendleton & Sons Drug Co. and two boxes of this medicine cured me of every symptom of kidney complaint. The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has been permanent."

TINKLING BELLS LATEST DECREE OF DAME FASHION

Unprecedented novelties in dress for the ultra-fashionable women, are promised for the Summer by Paris modistes. Probably the most unique decree of Dame Fashion for 1921 will be the tiny silver bells which will tinkle from Milady's hat and gown. The young miss in the photo is shown wearing a beautiful black satin gown and turban, by Joseph, from which dangled tiny silver bells, creating quite a sensation on Fifth avenue, New York. The crown of the black roll marabout turban was adorned with four tiny silver bells. The erise velvet band and streamers added attractiveness to the turban. From the streamers dangled two silver bells. The gown is of black satin trimmed with marabout bands and erise velvet sash, with four silver bells on the end. The cape is of black satin embroidered in green and gold and trimmed with marabout silk folds.

New Chair For University.

Austin, Texas, May 23.—Now that the State Federation of Labor at its annual convention in Galveston has given its official indorsement to the proposition of raising a fund of $100,000 for the endowment of a chair at the University of Texas in memory of the late Governor James S. Hogg, it is stated that immediate steps will be taken to raise this sum. According to Chris Callen of Austin, who originated the idea, the entire sum will be raised in short order. The fact that Governor Hogg began life as a printer in a country newspaper office causes the typographical fraternity and the labor element generally of the State to be in hearty sympathy with the movement in honor of his memory in the manner proposed. It is not known at this time what the nature of the prospective new chair in the University will be.

Tree Summer Coal Buying.

Electra, Texas, May 23.—At a special meeting held on Friday, May 13, the Board of Directors of the Electra Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture adopted a resolution urging members of the Chamber and citizens of Electra to lay in their winter's supply of coal at once. It was asserted that such a move would be taking advantage of summer prices giving employment to miners, and preventing the congestion of traffic which will inevitably occur if people follow the present tendency of waiting until Fall to buy their coal.

LONG LOST BROTHER

R. B. Thornell, local resident, concerning whom a story recently appeared in The Vernon Record in connection with his having been separated from all his relatives for 28 years, has received a wire from Arthur A. Thornell at Post requesting him to come there at once. The sender, says Mr. Thornell, is one of his brothers whom he has never known. In all probability, it is thought, Arthur A. Thornell read of the local man in the columns of The Record, and immediately communicated with his brother.

R. B. Thornell has wired in return for his brother to come to Vernon.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

Economy rides on U.S. Tires

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made. There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

The Foard County News uses some
vitriol in taking The Record to task
regarding the latter's statement to the effect that Foard county had voted $52,000 worth of bonds. The amount was $150,000, and it is with pleasure
that the correction is made.

Editor Kinsey seems to have assumed, too, that The Record is not aware that Foard county has done any road building heretofore. Our plea to this change is "not guilty." More than a year ago an automobile trip to Littlefield revealed to the writer a magnificent highway being constructed from Crowell to the Cottle county line. We understand, too, that much other work
has been done.

The Record is glad to compliment
Foard county on the roads its people
have built, and points to them as an example which any county might aspire to follow. The fact is, however,
that Foard county has just begun to build good roads—and the same may be said of any other county in Northwest Texas.

Nor is this saying that any one is asleep on the question good roads.
There yet remains so much to be done
that no community has done more than just scratch the surface. This is true
of Foard county. The big thing about
this bond issue is not its amount, although that is gratifying—but that the people are up and doing.

Wilbarger county must continue to build concrete highways. Our sand
precludes any other system of highways, except in a few sections. And
in these, the concrete road will be the final answer on all main highways.

The same may be said of every county in Texas, to a great extent. Let us
hope that this fact is soon recognized.

THOSE RIO GRANDE VALLEY TOWNS.

Many members of the State Press Association pulled last summer at the idea of McAllen wanting to entertain
the 1921 meeting of that organization.
McAllen is a town of about 5,000 people in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

"We will take you out of Dallas,
give you free entertainment while you
are with us, and bring you back to Dallas without charge," the McAllen
boosters said. As a result the State Press Association began to take notice,
and when the offer was put in proper
form the vote of acceptance was practically unanimous.

Then the bubble burst. With defla-
tion putting everybody on the toboggan,
and railroad rates shooting skyward,
it began to look as though the McAllen
offer could not be carried out. The executive committee was called to consider some other place for the June meeting.

Suffice it to say that the editors are going to McAllen this month on a round Pullman trip out of Dallas.
The Katy and Gulf Coast lines are making cash advance contracts to pay the transportation charges, while McAllen and McAllen interests are financing the Pullman cars, free entertainment in the Valley, a trip to

the Rio Grande in Mexico!

Wouldn't you like to go?

Nor is McAllen the only wonder town
of the Rio Grande Valley. Mission,
also about the size of Vernon, has a Rotary Club which is credited with twenty-two consecutive 100 per cent
meetings—the world's record!

Judging from these towns, the Lower Rio Grande has California
beaten to a frazzle, not only in climate and soil, and nearness to market—but also in its people.

ONE RESULT OF HIGH RATES.

The old adage of a "silver lining"
seems to hold true as regards the enormously increased freight rates of which we complain so bitterly. A writer in one of the leading business
publications points out that since it costs from 10 to 30 per cent of the value of a product to ship it from field
to mill, mills will be moved nearer the
source of raw production.

This writer predicts that many of
the great industrial centers will be practically dismantled, the various factories, being moved to some point
where raw material, fuel, and labor are all easily accessible. Surely this seems a reasonable view. Why should it be necessary to ship our raw cotton
or hides to New England, have them
made up and then reshipped?

The South has the raw material,
fuel is easily accessible in not a few
sections, and the workman would find
it greatly to his advantage in numerous ways to live in a district where he is a citizen first and a mill operative
second.

Not only is the suggestion applicable
to cotton and hides. It applies to breakfast foods, canned goods, and candies.

Experiments have proven that all of these may be put into final form for
the consumer at numerous points in
the South and Southwest. Certainly the time is opportune for the South
and Southwest to make use of its natural advantages in the race for industrial supremacy.

Recovers Car Stolen Year Ago.

A Ford roadster belonging to the Texas Star Petroleum Company of Wichita Falls was recovered here this week by Sheriff W. A. Ish. The car
was taken from its owners May 26,
1920. The machine was brought to Vernon recently and sold to a farmer
who gave in exchange a Maxwell car
and $25. He was without a bill of sale
when he attempted to register the car,
and investigation by the sheriff disclosed that it was stolen property. No
trace is had of the man who sold the roadster to the local resident.

Measuring Cup And Spoons.

Cake making is not "pure luck." A
half-pint measuring cup (glass or met-
al) for measuring the flour and sugar
and a standard set of spoons for measuring the butter and baking powder
will help in following a new recipe, say
specialists in the Experimental Kitchen
of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. E. L. Baldwin.

Every city of any size now has
its women attorneys, but the election or appointment of women to the bench is still rare
enough to attract wide attention. San Francisco boasts of Mrs. E. L. Baldwin, who is the
"ex-officio judge" of the juvenile court. Mrs. Baldwin has a reputation of tempering justice
with mercy in deciding the cases before her. A regular judge passes upon Mrs. Baldwin's decisions.

RIDDING A HOUSE OF ANTS: ARSENATE OF SODA WILL DO IT

The ant may be a model of thrift
and industry, but no housekeeper desires this particular model around her home. The following methods for ex-terminating the pest are given by the
Department of Agriculture:

The most effective way of ridding a house of ants is to find and destroy
the nest by treating it with carbon
bisulphid, benzine, gasoline, or kerosene. Or, if the nest itself can not be found, oftentimes the ants may be traced to the opening or crack through which they enter. Squirting kerosene
into it or plugging it with cotton saturated with the oil will in many cases
drive them away.

A temporary expedient for controlling ants is to moisten small sponges
with sweetened water and place them
where the ants are most numerous.
Attracted by the sugar, they will crawl
into the sponges and may be killed by dropping into boiling water. The sponges should be baited again with
the sweetened water and, if necessary,
set in different places until the colony
leaves the house.

A more effective, but also more dangerous, method is to moisten the
sponges with a sirup made by dissolving 1 pound of sugar in 1 quart of hot water and adding 125 grains (about 1-4 ounce) of arsenate of soda. Some of
the ants apparently carry this poisoned
liquid back to the nest and feed it to
the others there, thus gradually killing
the entire colony. This mixture must
be used with the greatest care, so it
is poisonous to both human beings and
domestic animals.

Ants are attracted by various food
substances, especially fat and sugars;
therefore these foods should be kept
in closed containers and crumbs or
small amounts spilled on shelves or tables cleaned off at once.

Rev. S. W. Hayne Tells Holcomb Seniors That Religion, Education, and Democracy Must Be Thoroughly Understood For Most Satisfactory Form of Government.

There are three great words that challenge our attention, Rev. S. W. Hayne told the graduating class of the Holcomb Training School in the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning at the Methodist church. The first of these is religion. In the words of Micah, he said, religion means to "do justice, love mercy and walk humbly with thy God." Religious education in a democracy, said the minister, means that our youth should be made to know the significance of this text.

The second word is education. Huxley's definition, said Mr. Hayne, is, "Education is the instruction of the intellect in the laws of nature, under which I include not merely things and their forces, but men and their ways; and the fashioning of the affection and the will into an earnest and loving desire to move in harmony with those laws. Education must be tried by this standard."

Theory of Democracy.
The third word, said the Methodist minister, is democracy. There was no real democracy, said the preacher, until the middle of the eighteenth century. The theory of the Greeks and Romans was that only the best man, or king, or a few best men, should govern the great majority of people who were regarded as unfit to conduct the affairs of the nation, or their own affairs.

Mr. Hayne then explained the theories of government involved in feudalism, self-government, Bentham's theory, and Brougham's theory. Education in democracy, he said, means the extension of public schools throughout the land, the education of women, and industrial and vocational training. Education, he pointed out, means more than intelligence.

Disregard Men's Rights.
There is too much disregard, said Mr. Hayne, of the fundamental rights of man. These are in regard to the person, such as murder, industry, where loss of life is greater than in war, child welfare, and protection of women in industry. There is a disregard of the rights of man in regard to property, too, as is involved in gambling in stocks and food stuffs. The disregard of the rights of family are indicated by the prevalence of divorces. Many newspapers, said Mr. Hayne, have little respect for reputation and carry on campaigns of falsification. Newspapers as a whole, though, said the minister, are a wonderful institution.

Then there is the failure due to inadequate educational ideals, said Mr. Hayne. When we consider the grave questions that people in a democracy must consider and have considered, we realize the deep need of the right kind of education. We must realize the duty of those who came first to those who came later.

Nothing can take the place of individual conversion, said the preacher. Conversion gives an impulse to righteousness, but does not educate in the laws of righteousness or their application to the complex conditions of modern life. We need the power to know and to do the right.

The place of the Christian colleges was noted by the minister who reviewed the earliest schools in the land. He pointed out the materialistic tendencies in the last half century and showed how religion is entirely divorced from the American school and state university and secular institutions. The law of the jungle is the law of commercial life, he said.

Christian education, said the minister in closing is a return to Americanism in the truest sense. We need Christian colleges, brave and strong, to teach the fundamental ideals of Jesus as they apply to social and individual life.

Will Honor Methodist Workers.

Workers in the Methodist educational drive which will commence Sunday, May 29, will be the guests of honor Friday evening at a supper in the parlors of the local Methodist church. There will be no outside speakers but a program has been planned for the occasion. Those present will make plans for the commencement of the drive Sunday.

BARBED WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS SURROUND CARPENTER'S QUARTERS.

Elaborate barriers are being erected around the old Mathews Estate, Manhasset, Long Island, to insure peace and quiet for Georges Carpentier, the French champion, who is training there for his title bout with Jack Dempsey on July 2. A high board fence has been erected around the barns on the estate, which have been fitted up as gymnasiums, wherein Georges will do most of his training. Barbed wire has been added to the picket fence in front of the house in which Carpentier will live during the training period. There is nothing secret about Georges' preparations, it was said at the camp, but he does not want the confusion of visitors or to have to do anything but what he pleases while training. The photograph shows the barbed wire, which stretches across the top of the picket fence in front of the house in which Carpentier will live during the training period. The house is shown in the background.

Studio Open For Summer.

Why not have your children make the summer vacation profitable to them by studying some musical instrument

Thos. A. Edison says, "I believe that you should have each of your children taught some musical instrument such as the harp, violin, cello, flute, cornet, clarinet or saxophone, etc."

All great men and women the world over recognize the wonderful influence of music study in character building of children.

I am planning to organize a band, also a young ladies band and orchestra. If interested call to see or phone me within the next few days.

Guinea Fowls Usually Raised in Small Flocks on Large Farms—Tendency to Mate in Pairs—Guineas Begin to Lay Late in Spring.

Many hotels and restaurants in the large cities are eager to secure prime young guineas, and they are often served at banquets and club dinners as a special delicacy. When well cooked, guineas are attractive in appearance, although darker than common fowls. The flesh of young birds is tender and of especially fine flavor, resembling that of wild game. Like all other fowl, old guineas are very likely to be tough and rather dry.

A few of the large poultry raisers, particularly those who are within easy reach of the large eastern markets, make a practice of raising a hundred or so guineas each year, but the great majority of guineas are raised in small flocks of from 10 to 25 upon farms in the Middle West and in the South.

Pearl Is Most Popular Variety. Domesticated guinea fowl are of three varieties—Pearl, White, and Lavender. The Pearl is by far the most popular. It has a purplish gray plumage regularly dotted or "pearled" with white and is so handsome that frequently the feathers are used for ornamental purposes.

Guinea hens usually begin laying in April, or May, those in the South laying earlier than those in the North. A short time before the opening of the laying period the hens with their mates begin searching for suitable nesting places among the weeds and brush along the fences or in the fields. In this search the male takes as active an interest as his mate, and when a suitable location is found both help to dig out the nest and make it into suitable shape.

Each day as the hen goes to the nest to lay the male accompanies her and remains near by until she comes off. Should anyone approach he shrieks in warning and thus betrays the whereabouts of the nest, which might otherwise be difficult to locate. If several guinea hens are mated with one male

they usually all lay in the same nest, but some times a hen after mating will wander off by herself to make her own nest. At times a male bird, after helping one hen to make her nest, will then desert her and pair off with another hen to make another nest.

From 20 to 30, and often more, eggs are laid before the guinea hen becomes broody, at which time she can be easily broken of her broodiness by removing the eggs from her nest, when she will soon begin laying again. If not allowed to sit, guinea hens will continue to lay throughout the summer, laying from 40 to 60 and in some cases 100 eggs during the season, say poultry specialists in United States Department of Agriculture.

Ordinary hens are used, commonly, to incubate guinea eggs, but guinea hens, turkey hens, and incubators also can be employed successfully. The usual setting for a guinea hen is about 14 eggs; for a hen of one of the general-purpose breeds, such as a Plymouth Rock, 18 eggs; and for a turkey hen, about 24 eggs. The incubation period for guinea eggs is 28 days, although frequently they start hatching on the 26th day and are all hatched by the end of the 27th day.

If the nest in which the guinea hen becomes broody is safe from any disturbance, she may be trusted with a setting of eggs, and more than likely will hatch out every egg that is fertile, provided all hatch at about the same time. As soon as the guinea chicks begin to leave the nest the hen will leave with them, and any eggs that are left in the nest will be ruined unless they are placed in an incubator or under a broody hen before they become chilled.

Guinea Hens Are Only Fair Mothers. Guinea hens usually are too wild to be set anywhere except in the nest where they have become broody, and often such a nest is unsafe. Because of these disadvantages and the fact that guinea hens do not make the most satisfactory mothers for guinea chicks, ordinary hens are most often used to do the incubating and the brooding, at least until late in the summer, when the guinea hens often are allowed to sit and raise a brood without much attention being given them.

Ordinary hens make the best mothers for guinea chicks. Given warm, dry weather and plenty of range, turkey and guinea hens can be used successfully, but should a rain or heavy dew occur the mother turkey or guinea hen is apt to drag the chicks through the wet grass, and many are lost from becoming wet and chilled. Neither turkey nor guinea hens can be induced to seek the shelter of a coop at night and during storms, but will remain out in the fields to hover their broods wherever they happen to be when nightfall overtakes them.

New Organization, Taking Full Control, Turns Prices Back Three Years

The last step in the Maxwell reorganization was the sale of the Maxwell properties to the new and powerful organization, May 12.

The first step of the new organization was to raise the value of the good Maxwell still higher, by restoring prices to the former low level of 1918.

The reduction is $150 on each of the four models, effective at once.

This is the second price revision made by the new organization; and the total reduction from the high level, since Sept. 28, 1920, has been $310 on open cars and $350 on closed cars.

What this latest action means, literally, is turning back Maxwell prices to the basis of 1918.

The truth is that the good Maxwell today is a better car than it was three years ago.

It has been given a new goodness, by lowering costs, by increasing plant efficiency, and by greatly improving the manufacturing practices.

The new organization now owns the great Maxwell plants outright. Its way is clear to carry out in full its larger plans and policies.

It pledges itself never to stop working for the further betterment of the good Maxwell, and for the greater satisfaction of present and future owners of this good car.

which a marketing organization can serve its members, said Mr. Moser. It will first completely eliminate country damage which everyone pays for now; it will close the differential between the high and low grades of cotton in which there is an immense discrepancy now; it will eliminate the "city crop," or sampling, which now runs over 300,000 bales a year in the South; and it will eliminate unnecessary handling of products and save a great amount of expense by making it possible to class the cotton only once.

The essential principle is handling a non-perishable crop such as cotton is, said the Bureau secretary, are financing, warehousing, and merchandising. Explaining the warehousing system, Mr. Moser said that stock would be offered, both common and preferred. Part of the common stock will be put in the hands of farmers who will vote it all. The rest will be put into the treasury of the organization. The preferred stock will be offered to the public and will carry eight per cent interest. It will be issued in five series, one series to be retired each year. The cotton in the warehouse is the collateral for the interest and sinking fund. Charges on cotton put into the warehouse will serve to provide this interest and sinking fund and common stock will be offered the farmers in return for the charges made for storing cotton.

Two Finance Methods.

There are two methods of financing such an organization, Mr. Moser pointed out. There is first the draft and acceptance plan in which the farmer gets for his cotton a warehouse receipt or a freight bill to which he attaches a draft for the amount due him. This, then is sent to the marketing organization which indorses it and attaches a list of the banks which will discount the paper.

The other method was originated by the Federal Reserve Bank Board and deals with bankers' acceptances. Certain banks are termed acceptance banks and it is with these that the marketing organization makes arrangement for the issuance of credit. The farmer, then, simply draws on the bank in the same way, but the acceptance bank simply guarantees the draft and sends it to the discount bank for payment. Thus the acceptance banks in reality pay out no money. Either method, said Mr. Moser, is a vast improvement over the present system.

Applies Business Methods.

In all events, said the State secretary in closing, a farmers' organization such as the one advocated is simply an application of modern business methods to the marketing of crops. This is the psychological era for the farmer, and the move for co-operation is one of the benefits of the war. The farmer has been driven to this action to protect himself, he said.

Following his address, Mr. Moser answered questions on the part of the audience, and explained the organization of two national wheat marketing associations now in existence in this country as well as the methods of financing these bodies.

WILL OFFER ELEMENTARY COURSES IN CLOTHING

Austin, Texas, May 24.—Elementary courses in clothing, foods, dietetics and home nursing will be offered in the Department of Home Economics during the University of Texas summer school. This is the first time that a course in home nursing has been offered in the summer session. In the elementary course in clothing a new plan is to be followed. One-third of the course will be devoted to the study of textiles and will include a complete study of the various materials from the raw product, through the manufacture, and up to the finished products. Chemical tests of the materials will also be made. The remainder of the course is to be taken up with the making of simple garments.

The prerequisites which were formerly connected with the course in home nursing have been removed, so that it is expected that many students will avail themselves of the opportunity to get practical instruction in the care of the sick in the home. In the elementary course in foods, practice in the serving of foods will be given during the second term of the summer session, following a study of foods and their preparation during the first term.

Women Magistrates

The theory that the legal mind is necessarily masculine in gender has been exploded in the last few years by a number of women lawyers who have made good in their chosen profession, some being elected judges of various courts. In New York City the trying task of weighing justice to the many women who are brought before her rests on the shoulders of Magistrate Jean Norris, of the Women's Court. Mrs. Norris is the first woman ever selected to sit on the judges' bench in a criminal or civil court in New York State. She is a widow and has been practicing law for more than fourteen years.

WHAT DO YOU THINK IS A WELL-FURNISHED HOUSE?

Well-furnished houses are not cluttered with things which may be useful or attractive in themselves, but which nobody uses or enjoys. They are, rather, those that contain only things necessary for convenience in working and for comfort and satisfaction in living, and no more.

A house that is well planned, perfectly convenient and comfortable, will also be beautiful. Beauty does not lie so much in the ornaments but on a thing as in the perfect adaptation of that thing to the use for which it is intended.

If a woman tries sincerely to arrange her house according to this idea of adaptation to use, she need not worry about its being "pretty," say household experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. She may not be rich enough to have expensive things, but if she uses harmonious colors for her walls, floors, and upholstery, and chooses furniture for its good design and comfort rather than for its ornamentation her house can scarcely fail to be restful and attractive. And if with limited means she succeeds in making a convenient, comfortable, and attractive home out of an unpromising, inconvenient farmhouse, she has more to be proud of than if, with the help of an expensive decorator, she had achieved good effects in a house equipped with all modern improvements.

Moral Character or Steel Doors

WHICH is the better protection for valuables—safety vaults with steel doors or Christian men of moral character? The greatest security for mortgages and bonds is not the physical properties like railroads and factories on which they are issued, but the moral character of the people. When a majority of the people of any nation have bad moral ideals, no investment is safe.

Why are investments in Russia and Mexico not good? Not for lack of physical property or natural resources. Europe is nervous about their securities because they fear lest the tragic events of the last six years have disturbed the religious faith and moral moorings of the people.

The best protection against anarchy, Bolshevism, radicalism, I. W. W.-ism, red revolution, is Christian Education. It lays the foundation of society upon the Rock of Ages—upon righteousness, law and order, co-operation and unselfishness.

The Christian Education Movement of the M. E. Church, South, is raising $33,000,000 for this great cause. It will equip and maintain the finest and most thoroughly Christian system of schools and colleges in America.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL MEETS DEFEAT IN HARD PLAYED GAME

Belton Outclasses Locals In Contest Featured By Vernon's Errors—Coach Winston's Lads Unable To Hit Ball At Critical Periods—Game Does Not Alter Standing.

Vernon high school's baseball team met defeat Monday afternoon at the hands of Belton high by the score of 8 to 3 in a hard played game at the fairgrounds in which the visitors outclassed the local players almost from the start. It was evidently Vernon's off day in fielding and hitting, and after the sixth inning, when Belton sent three runners over the plate, the contest was never in doubt. Moser, visiting pitcher, kept Vernon's blows well scattered and the local batters were never dangerous with the exception of the first inning. Baird, the local southpaw, pitched in excellent form, but his support wobbled at critical periods when air tight playing was essential.

Vernon's battery, Captain Curtis and Baird, performed in its usual consistent form, and Cane and Larrimore showed up well in the infield. Small made a beautiful catch in the sixth inning of a long fly that would have meant several runs had he missed it.

Belton Gets Breaks.
Belton played in form that deserved to win and apparently received the benefits of several close breaks in the game. The visitors showed themselves to be a clean, hard playing aggregation and of exceptional calibre for a high school team. The attendance in the grand stand and on the field was estimated at 1,500, and there were probably 300 more persons lining the fence around the outfield.

Following is the game by innings:

First Inning.

Small hit to center field. Larrimore sacrificed. Curtis connected for a two bagger. Small scoring. Curtis and Smith worked a perfect squeeze. Curtis scored. Delmaso grounded out. Two hits, two runs, no errors.

Second Inning.
Perry was safe on a scratch hit to Baird. Perry stole second. Lawler struck out. Moser struck out. Lewis flew out to Delmaso. One hit, no runs, no errors.

Cane struck out. Farrell struck out. Hiatt walked. Baird flew out. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Third Inning.
Westbrook walked. Wilbanks attempted a sacrifice but Westbrook was thrown out at second. Wilbanks stole second. Robertson was safe on an infield hit. Wilbanks going to third. Wilbanks scored on a passed ball that hit the plate. Dyer hit to left field and Robertson scored. Smith struck out and Dyer took third. Perry hit a high fly which Farrell missed. Dyer scoring. Lawler flew out to Curtis. Three hits, three runs, two errors.

Small got an infield hit and stole second. He took third on a passed ball. On an attempted hit and run, Small was caught between home and third. Larrimore struck out. Curtis was safe on the shortstop's error. Smith grounded out to Moser. No hits, no runs, one error.

Fourth Inning.

Delmaso grounded out to the pitcher. Cane hit to right field and stole second and third. Cane scored on a bad throw to catch him at third. Farrell struck out. Hiatt struck out. One hit, one run, one error.

Fifth Inning.
Wilbanks was out. Curtis to Cane. Robertson hit to right field and stole second. Dyer hit to Baird who threw out Robertson at third. Dyer stole second and third. Smith struck out. One hit, no runs, one error.

Baird struck out. Small grounded out. Larrimore was out. Pitcher to first baseman. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Sixth Inning.
Perry was safe when Delmaso dropped a high fly. Lawler hit to Baird who threw out Perry at second. On an attempted double play Smith threw over Cane's head. Lawler scored. Second. Moser flew out. Lawler stole third. Lewis hit to center field and

OHIO CONGRESSMAN SMOKE FORMER EMPEROR'S PIPE

LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW FICTION LIST

BOOKS OF INTERESTING QUALITY ARE OFFERED FOR SUMMER READING.

Following is a list of books received in the free public library here and brief synopsis of each prepared by Miss Lillian Newton, librarian.

The first book is:

"Seed of the Sun" by Wallace Irwin. Mr. Irwin tells the story of two plucky New York girls, who go west to work the fruit ranch they inherit. There is action, outdoor life and adventure in their experiences. Incidentally Mr. Irwin describes the activities of a Japanese society which supports Japanese schools and Buddhist temples for the spread of the doctrine of the Divine Emperor, and in general operates to force out American fruit growers from the richest soil in the coast states.

"Sister Sue" by Eleanor H. Porter. Mrs. Porter considered "Sister Sue" (completed just before her death) the best story she had written. Sister Sue is one of those rainbow characters of great and shining beauty that Mrs. Porter created with so sure a hand.

"The Bar To Three" by Clarence Mulford. Wild west atmosphere coupled with rugged cowboy humor flood the stories of Hopalong Cassidy, Red Connors, and John Nelson. And in this latest account of their adventures, the famous three from the old Bar do more than justify their former reputations.

"The Pagan Madonna" by Harold Mac Grath. A mystery story of unusual interest.

"You Never Saw Such a Girl" by George Weston. A bright, cheerful happy romance.

"The Top of the World" a new novel by Ethel M. Dell.

WILBARGER HARVEST TO START WITHIN WEEK OR TEN DAYS

Farmers Now Busy Overhauling Machinery and Putting All In Readiness For Commencement of Operations—Most of Wheat Is Thought To Be Worth Cutting.

Harvest in Wilbarger county is expected to start in earnest within a week or ten days, and farmers are already hard at work preparing for their "busy season." Supplies are being purchased, machinery overhauled, and all put into readiness for the inauguration of cutting. Many will commence the harvest of oats this week, and a few will begin cutting wheat.

According to the county agent, wheat in most of the localities is looking better than was anticipated several weeks ago. There will be what is considered a "fair crop," and in some instances it will probably average as high as fifteen or twenty bushels to the acre. This, however, will be a high yield. Most of the wheat, it is thought, will be worth cutting although on some farms it will make practically nothing. Early planted wheat is expected to produce considerably better than the crop put in later. Wheat in the Wanderer creek section is said to be particularly good. There is a small amount of rye and barley that will also be harvested in the county.

Labor is expected to be plentiful during the coming harvesting season. The great amount of unemployment in the county is expected to more than supply the demand for hands.

Rain is needed badly over Wilbarger county, although there has been a noticeable slackening of complaint on the part of farmers, due probably to the absence of extremely dry winds during the last two weeks. In some sections, also, there is a surprisingly large amount of moisture still in the ground.

Early Cotton Excellent.
Cotton in the county, where planted early, has an excellent stand. Many farmers, however, have abandoned this crop and planted corn, maize, and other grains in its place. In some localities oats that bid fair to produce nothing are being plowed up and cotton planted in their stead. This will serve to increase the cotton acreage slightly above the estimate placed upon it earlier in the season.

Alfalfa in the county has had one cutting, and is nearly ready for another. Gardens, too, are doing well. It is thought there will be more peaches than at first anticipated, especially in the immediate vicinity of Vernon. The pear crop will be somewhat short, but there is expected to be a plentiful supply of this fruit. There are but few apricots in Wilbarger county.

A remarkable photograph showing Harriet Mitchell, nine-year-old daughter of Brigadier-General Mitchell, taking a hurdle on "Home Again" her entry in the National Capital Horse Show, in Washington, where the little girl's wonderful riding received much applause. Little Miss Mitchell is considered the best of the child riders in the capital.

Injured By Falling Machinery.
Dud Marlow, an employee of the Terchum-Orr Implement Co., was painfully injured Monday morning when a number of reaper tables in a carload of machinery he was helping to unload fell upon him. The young man suffered a bruised left thigh, right knee, and left hand. After medical attention he was taken to his home on West Wanderer Street. Marlow had just begun his service at the Implement company yesterday morning.

Vaughn Barn Burns Saturday.
A barn belonging to Sid Vaughn living on the corner of East Yamparika and South Eagle Streets was almost destroyed by fire about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. Only the children of the family were home when the blaze occurred. The structure was an old one and most of the loss suffered was to a quantity of feed stored in the barn.

To Give Recital.
Mrs. Guy Puckett's piano pupils will give a private recital at her home Friday afternoon. Fifteen will take part in the entertainment to which have been invited the parents and a few friends.

OLDEST AND NEWEST IN ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES.

The above photos show the first and the latest in electric locomotives. On top is a photo of the earliest type of successfully operated electric engine in the world. It was built by Moses G. Farmer, of Vermont, in 1847, and was ten feet long. It established its claims to the fatherhood of electric traction by antedating German claims for similar honors by thirty years. The lower photo shows the modern electric locomotive, the largest in the world and built seventy-five years later than the machine shown in the upper photo. This big engine hauls long trains over the Western mountains at a seventy-mile-an-hour clip. It is seventy-six feet long and weighs 200 tons.

CITY VOTES MONEY FOR PARKS' UPKEEP

City commissioners voted yesterday morning to appropriate $30 a month toward the support of the Shive and Allingham parks in this city, and supervision of the ground was placed in the hands of Mrs. W. H. Huggins. This order was made effective June 1.

The Allingham park was purchased in 1912 by a league of women in Vernon from W. H. Snodgrass, and the property deeded to the city. It is now an attractive addition to the community. Shive park was turned over to the city by T. H. Shive and is also an attractive piece of property. Both parks are in the west part of town.

Will Lay Sewer.
The city engineer was instructed by the commissioners to run a water and sewer line up Yamparika Street west as far as block 11, or South Tolar Street. The distance will be practically 1,000 feet. Work on the project will be started as soon as the pipe arrives. It is ordered from a San Antonio company.

INFORMAL FARM BUREAU MEETING HELD SATURDAY

Many farmers in town Saturday met in the district court room in the afternoon and held an informal meeting in the interest of the Texas Farm Bureau meeting. No gathering had been announced but under the general impression that there would be "something doing" the room was nearly filled.

Guy R. Jones, county agent, and T. F. Davis, speaker on one of the county teams, addressed those present, and were followed by several of those in the audience. The meeting lasted about two hours.

Will Commence In Two Weeks.
The Burton well south of town is now 850 feet deep and was abandoned about the latter part of last October. It will be taken down to 2,150 feet, the contract depth. J. E. Watts and company have the contract for deepening the hole.

PUCKETTS HAVE OPENING.
Grocery Store Is At Home to Patrons And Friends On First Day In New And Modern Location.

Guy and Chauncey Puckett, proprietors of Puckett Brothers Grocery Store, were at home to patrons and friends yesterday afternoon, the first day of business in their new location which is one door south of the old store building in which they have been transacting business. Mrs. Guy Puckett, assisted by Miss Lois Morrison, presided at a punch bowl which was entwined with sprays of asparagus ferns and was placed on a table at the front of the store. The ladies who called were also presented with cape jasmine blossoms.

The features of the Puckett store in its new location are its spaciousness, its neatness and its cleanliness. The dimensions are thirty feet by a hundred and ten feet and a partition through the center divides the building, thus providing for a ware room in rear. The two side walls of the front room and also the partition wall, save the counter opening into the office room and the door leading to the rear room, are fitted with shelves up to a height of about twelve feet and on these are arranged canned, bottled, and boxed goods. A circuit of these walls gives the customer a view of the complete stock of goods carried in these lines.

The refrigerator has a place in the partition wall and the cake rack stands near the front window. A long wrapping counter extends along the north side of the store and in the center of the room is the fresh fruit and vegetable rack, back of which is the cash register. These, together with the counter and the cake rack, are the only things occupying floor space, a large per cent of which is left open. The floors are of concrete, and the shelving and counters are stained dark to show the natural grain of the wood.

TELLS FARMERS THEY ARE LIVING IN DIFFERENT AGE

State Farm Bureau Secretary Says Principles of Federation Are Simply Those Of Business Applied To Agriculture—Relates Essentials To Be Observed In Association.

Farmers of today must realize we are living in an entirely different age. C. O. Moser, secretary and manager of the Texas Farm Bureau, told an audience Saturday morning in the district court room. Mr. Moser passed through Vernon on his way to Quanah to conduct a meeting. Formerly he said, England financed our cotton and provided a ready market but now that country is not able to meet its obligations and can lend but little assistance. In the meantime the United States must hold the cotton until it is needed.

There is nothing new in the co-operative system of marketing, the State secretary asserted. It has been carried on in Europe for many years and was brought to this country and to California twenty-six years ago. The Rochdale system of marketing, started in England by a band of weavers, has now become a tremendous enterprise in itself, and has been put into use in this country. It, however, is not as efficient as the Danish system which eliminates one community from competing with another.

Same As Science.
The principles of marketing, said Mr. Moser, are the same as those of science. There are a number of essentials to be observed in the formation of a marketing association and these are as follows:

First, there must be the realization that the purchaser is interested in quality and price before all else. Where the product comes from is of secondary importance.

Second, the association must be formed of growers only. Business men who are financially interested in the growing of crops are eligible for membership in a commodity marketing system.

Third, products of like quality and grade should be kept in separate pools and sold separately. Each man, then, receives from his product in proportion to the pool it is put into.

Quality Pays.
Fourth, farmers will learn that it pays to raise the better grades of cotton. The price received for the better grades is corresponding to their quality.

Sixth, there must be the realization that experts for marketing the crop can be employed as surely by a farmers' marketing association as by any other kind. Furthermore, it is to be noted that these experts prefer working for producers other than different interests.

Seventh, it is necessary to have a legally enforceable, iron clad contract between the members and the association. Otherwise it would be impossible for the organization to make contracts for future deliveries and otherwise carry on its business. It would be impossible, said Mr. Moser, to organize a bank on a one year basis and the same principle applies to the Federation. This Federation, he said, will be the largest organization of its kind in the world, and will thus be able to accomplish many things that no other can.

The State secretary explained carefully the details concerning the Federation's organization. There are eighteen directors, he said, who receive office through election by the farmers from each congressional district in the State. There are also two directors at large, making twenty in all. At present there are more than 50,000 members in the Texas bureau, representing the largest organization of its kind ever formed in the State.

Four Essential Principles.
Mr. Moser reviewed the great success of the marketing association in California. It is no longer an experiment, he said, but a well established business. It is said that in California there are more boys and girls in the colleges and universities who come from the country than there are from the city.

There are four essential methods in

GO TO THEATRE

This is a gingery, jazzery, just-wed romance that shoots high in the air and explodes with fun. All because her new husband wanted her to have a career beside one in the kitchen the young bride started out, with a dashing young captain as her instructor, to be the world's champion woman flyer. Then there is a wreck and a road-house and a scandal as a result. Her husband is furious and she flees from home only to return and seek a job as cook in her own household. When her repentant husband discovers her there—well, there is a happy ending.

Wednesday—"The Race of the Ages." "The Race of the Ages" is a picture of the race between Man o' War and Sir Barton at Windsor, Ont., and a sum of $10,000 was paid to the Kenilworth Jockey Club for the motion picture rights of the event. For several days before the race every portion of the track was guarded to make sure that no cameras of any kind or size were gotten on the ground by persons other than those who had paid for the rights. Fourteen cameras were employed in taking the race itself. These were placed at every point of vantage.

According to this story Mr. Reid inherits a girl's school from one of his aunts. Believing that all young women should devote more time to making themselves charming he converts the institution into a charm school and changes all the methods of instruction. There is a wealth of romance, a breezy plot and many other delightful features.

At the Pictorium.

Today—Chas. Ray in "The Old Swimmin' Hole." These are the happiest days in the world sparkling on the screen for the boys and girls who like to look back to the days they spent in the school room and the hours of fun they enjoyed before and after the bell rang. They are put into pictures by Chas. Ray in the dramatization of James Whitcomb Riley's poem, "The Old Swimmin' Hole."

Wednesday—"The Midnight Riders." This is a sensational picture featuring a band of mounted men who open the story with fight for the company's pay-roll. They made a desperate escape down the steep sides of Bald Mountain and meet at midnight in their secret cave. A beautiful girl spy is captured by them and she succeeds in learning the secrets of the order. A sheep king is also kidnapped but is saved by the "sneaking" of a Mexican who betrays the midnight riders to save himself.

Thursday—Elaine Hammerstein in "Poor Dear Margaret Kirby." Miss Hammerstein is seen in the role of a popular society matron who lives only for her social activities. Due to business troubles of her husband she is forced to turn her home into a boarding house, a fact for which she is frequently upbraided by her husband, who, being an invalid because of an attempt at suicide, is confined to his room and does not understand the degree of his business failure. Margaret Kirby also suffers the torture which comes from the tongue-wagging of unfaithful friends, but the ending is happy.

EAT PLENTY OF SPINACH AND KEEP WELL AND HEALTHY

Spinach Valuable Adjunct to More Substantial Foods in Diet—Rarely Cooked to Perfection, Yet Not Difficult to Prepare. How to Cook Spinach Right Way.

One of the first vegetables in the garden or on the market in the early spring is that reliable standby—spinach. The shoots should be cut regularly; if not, the old shoots become tough and rank flavored.

Spinach furnishes little body energy, but it is exceptionally rich in iron and in one of the most important vitamins, and so is a valuable food, say specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture. It contains little starch and only a suggestion of sugar, and is therefore one of the vegetables that physicians include in the bill of fare of many invalids who require a diet without these carbohydrates.

Cheap in First Cost.

Like most other vegetables, it is rarely cooked to perfection, yet it is not difficult to prepare. Except for special reasons, the simplest methods are the best for this vegetable. No matter how cheap the raw spinach may be, it is always expensive in one thing—labor. It takes a good deal of time, water, and patience to wash it clean.

To clean the spinach cut off the roots, break the leaves apart and drop them into a large pan of water. Wash them well, and lift them into a second pan of water. Do not pour the water off over the spinach or the grit that has been washed off will go back on the leaves. Continue washing in clean waters until there is not a trace of sand on the bottom of the pan. If the spinach is at all wilted, let it stand in cold water until it becomes fresh and crisp. Drain from this water and blanch as follows:

For half a peck of spinach put in a large saucepan 3 quarts of boiling water and 1 tablespoon of salt. Put the drained spinach in the boiling water and let it boil 10 minutes, counting from the time it begins to boil. When it begins to boil, draw the cover of the saucepan a little to one side to allow the steam to escape. At the end of 10 minutes pour the spinach into a colander, and when the hot water has passed off pour cold water over it. Let it drain well and mince coarse or fine.

SENIORS OFFER EXCELLENT PROGRAM AT GRADUATING EXERCISES.

Vernon high school commencement exercises held Friday evening at More's Theater ranked among the best that have ever been presented by the local institution. Interested spectators filled the auditorium and occupied every possible point of vantage to witness the program.

The exercises were divided into two parts, the first being opened with music and invocation by Rev. E. L. Moore of the Presbyterian Church. Shirley McLarty followed with an excellent salutatory address which was very well received. Miss Mildred McLarty, valedictorian of the class, gave the farrow address in a well planned speech.

Awards Scholarships.

Scholarships were awarded Miss Mildred McLarty and Shirley McLarty by Superintendent B. F. Sisk to every institution of higher learning in the State. These were offered on the basis of the two highest percentages in school work in the class. The two honor students, of course, will take advantage of but one scholarship apiece. Diplomas to the graduates were presented by R. D. L. Killough, vice-president of the school board.

In the second part of the program, offered by members of the graduating class, the violin duet by Miss Mozelle Parker and Ethel Reese was perhaps the feature number. The young ladies played excellently and their offering was enthusiastically received by those present. A "Forty-grat" Album, given by Misses Frances Kemp and Ruth Carney gave a brief prospectus of the seniors and proved one of the best numbers because of the humor it offered.

Readings Well Rendered.

Miss Maudie Ladd who gave a read-added markedly to the attractiveness of the program with a very pleasant selection. Shirley McLarty, who read "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," well above the average in his manner and exhibited excellent delivery. Her attractive numbers offered were and box chorus by ten seniors, and singing of the "ponies" by the senior class.

A Vernon Man's Experience

Can you doubt the evidence of this Vernon citizen?

You can verify Vernon endorsement.

Read this:

J. J. Manis, owns Auto Accessory Store, North Bowie Street, Vernon, says: "Some years ago my back and kidneys were in bad shape caused from a strain. My back was so bad I could hardly turn over in bed. There was a heavy pain across my back and hips. My back was so sore and lame at night I couldn't sleep and mornings when I first got up I could hardly straighten. My kidneys were in awful shape and were inflamed, irregular and weak in action. The kidney secretions contained a sediment and were painful in passage. I used different kidney remedies but none of them did me any good. I finally bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Pendleton & Sons Drug Co., and two boxes of this medicine cured me of every symptom of kidney complaint. The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me has been permanent."

TINKLING BELLS LATEST DECREE OF DAME FASHION

Unprecedented novelties in dress for the ultra-fashionable women, are promised for the Summer by Paris modistes. Probably the most unique decree of Dame Fashion for 1921 will be the tiny silver bells which will tinkle from Middy's hat and gown. The young miss in the photo is shown wearing a beautiful black satin gown and turban, by Joseph, from which dangled tiny silver bells, creating quite a sensation on Fifth avenue, New York. The crown of the black roll marabout turban was adorned with four tiny silver bells. The cerise velvet band and streamers added attractiveness to the turban. From the streamers dangled two silver bells. The gown is of black satin trimmed with marabout bands and cerise velvet sash, with four silver bells on the end. The cape is of black satin embroidered in green and gold and trimmed with marabout silk folds.

New Chair For University.

Austin, Texas, May 23.—Now that the State Federation of Labor at its annual convention in Galveston has given its official indorsement to the proposition of raising a fund of $100,000 for the endowment of a chair at the University of Texas in memory of the late Governor James S. Hogg, it is stated that immediate steps will be taken to raise this sum. According to Chris Callen of Austin, who originated the idea, the entire sum will be raised in short order. The fact that Governor Hogg began life as a printer in a country newspaper office causes the typographical fraternity and the labor element generally of the State to be in hearty sympathy with the movement in honor of his memory in the manner proposed. It is not known at this time what the nature of the prospective new chair in the University will be.

Free Summer Coal Buying.

Electra, Texas, May 23.—At a special meeting held on Friday, May 13, the Board of Directors of the Electra Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture adopted a resolution urging members of the Chamber and citizens of Electra to lay in their winter's supply of coal at once. It was asserted that such a move would be taking advantage of summer prices giving employment to miners, and preventing the congestion of traffic which will inevitably occur if people follow the present tendency of waiting until Fall to buy their coal.

R. B. Thornell, local resident, concerning whom a story recently appeared in The Vernon Record in connection with his having been separated from all his relatives for 28 years, has received a wire from Arthur A. Thornell

Vernon's Best EATING HOUSE

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

GOOD ROADS IN FOARD.

The Foard County News uses some vitriol in taking The Record to task regarding the latter's statement to the effect that Foard county had voted $52,000 worth of bonds. The amount was $150,000, and it is with pleasure that the correction is made.

Editor Kimsey seems to have assumed, too, that The Record is not aware that Foard county has done any road building heretofore. Our plea to this charge is "not guilty." More than a year ago an automobile trip to Littlefield revealed to the writer a magnificent highway being constructed from Crowell to the Cottle county line. We understand, too, that much other work has been done.

The Record is glad to compliment Foard county on the roads its people have built, and points to them as an example which any county might aspire to follow. The fact is, however, that Foard county has just begun to build good roads—and the same may be said of any other county in Northwest Texas.

Nor is this saying that any one is asleep on the question good roads. There yet remains so much to be done that no community has done more than just scratch the surface. This is true of Foard county. The big thing about this bond issue is not its amount, although that is gratifying—but that the people are up and doing.

Wilbarger county must continue to build concrete highways. Our sand precludes any other system of highways, except in a few sections. And in these, the concrete road will be the final answer on all main highways.

The same may be said of every county in Texas, to a great extent. Let us hope that this fact is soon recognized.

THOSE RIO GRANDE VALLEY TOWNS.

Many members of the State Press Association smiled last summer at the idea of McAllen wanting to entertain the 1921 meeting of that organization. McAllen is a town of about 5,000 people in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

"We will take you out of Dallas, give you free entertainment while you are with us, and bring you back to Dallas without charge," the McAllen boosters said. As a result the State Press Association began to take notice, and when the offer was put in proper form the vote of acceptance was practically unanimous.

Then the bubble burst. With deflation putting everybody on the toboggan, and railroad rates shooting skyward, it began to look as though the McAllen offer could not be carried out. The executive committee was called to consider some other place for the June meeting.

Suffice it to say that the editors are going to McAllen next month on a solid Pullman train out of Dallas. The Katy and Gulf Coast lines are making cash advertising contracts to pay the transportation charges. While McAllen and McAllen interests are furnishing the Pullman cars, free en-

Brownsville, and a baroque across the Rio Grande in Mexico!

Wouldn't you like to go?

Nor is McAllen the only wonder town of the Rio Grande Valley. Mission, also about the size of Vernon, has a Rotary Club which is credited with twenty-two consecutive 100 per cent meetings—the world's record!

Judging from these towns, the Lower Rio Grande has California beaten to a frazzle, not only in climate soil, and nearness to market—but also in its people.

ONE RESULT OF HIGH RATES.

The old adage of a "silver lining" seems to hold true as regards the enormously increased freight rates of which we complain so bitterly. A writer in one of the leading business publications points out that since it costs from 10 to 30 per cent of the value of a product to ship it from field to mill, mills will be moved nearer the source of raw production.

This writer predicts that many of the great industrial centers will be practically dismantled, the various factories being moved to some point where raw material, fuel, and labor are all easily accessible. Surely this seems a reasonable view. Why should it be necessary to ship our raw cotton or hides to New England, have them made up and then reshipped?

The South has the raw material, fuel is easily accessible in not a few sections, and the workman would find it greatly to his advantage in numerous ways to live in a district where he is a citizen first and a mill operative second.

Not only is the suggestion applicable to cotton and hides. It applies to breakfast foods, canned goods, and candies.

Experiments have proven that all of these may be put into final form for the consumer at numerous points in the South and Southwest. Certainly the time is opportune for the South and Southwest to make use of its natural advantages in the race for industrial supremacy.

Recovers Car Stolen Year Ago.

A Ford roadster belonging to the Texas Star Petroleum Company of Wichita Falls was recovered here this week by Sheriff W. A. Ish. The car was taken from its owners May 26, 1920. The machine was brought to Vernon recently and sold to a farmer who gave in exchange a Maxwell car and $25. He was without a bill of sale when he attempted to register the car, and investigation by the sheriff disclosed that it was stolen property. No trace is had of the man who sold the roadster to the local resident.

Measuring Cup And Spoons.

Cake making is not "pure luck." A half-pint measuring cup (glass or metal) for measuring the flour and sugar and a standard set of spoons for measuring the butter and baking powder will help in following a new recipe, say specialists in the Experimental Kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture.

B. O. Brown, Walter McElroy, Ransom Walker, and Harry Norwood drove to Crowell Saturday afternoon.

Women Magistrates

Mrs. E. L. Baldwin.

Every city of any size now has its women attorneys, but the election or appointment of women to the bench is still rare enough to attract wide attention. San Francisco boasts of Mrs. E. L. Baldwin, who is the "ex-officio judge" of the juvenile court. Mrs. Baldwin has a reputation of tempering justice with mercy in deciding the cases before her. A regular judge passes upon Mrs. Baldwin's decisions.

RIDDING A HOUSE OF ANTS: ARSENATE OF SODA WILL DO IT

The ant may be a model of thrift and industry, but no housekeeper desires this particular model around her home. The following methods for exterminating the pest are given by the Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture:

The most effective way of ridding a house of ants is to find and destroy the nest by treating it with carbon bisulphid, benzine, gasoline, or kerosene. Or, if the nest itself can not be found, oftentimes the ants may be traced to the opening or crack through which they enter. Spraying kerosene into it or plugging it with cotton saturated with the oil will in many cases drive them away.

A temporary expedient for controlling ants is to moisten small sponges with sweetened water and place them where the ants are most numerous. Attracted by the sugar, they will crawl into the sponges and may be killed by dropping into boiling water. The sponges should be baited again with the sweetened water and, if necessary, set in different places until the colony leaves the house.

A more effective, but also more dangerous, method is to moisten the sponges with a sirup made by dissolving 1 pound of sugar in 1 quart of hot water and adding 125 grains (about 1-4 ounce) of arsenate of soda. Some of the ants apparently carry this poisoned liquid back to the nest and feed it to the others there, thus gradually killing the entire colony. This mixture must be used with the greatest care, so it is poisonous to both human beings and domestic animals.

Ants are attracted by various food substances, especially fats and sugars; therefore these foods should be kept in closed containers and crumbs or small amounts spilled on shelves or tables cleaned off at once.

POINTS OUT THREE GREAT WORDS THAT DEMAND ATTENTION

Rev. S. W. Hayne Tells Holcomb Seniors That Religion, Education, and Democracy Must Be Thoroughly Understood For Most Satisfactory Form of Government.

There are three great words that challenge our attention, Rev. S. W. Hayne told the graduating class of the Holcomb Training School in the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning at the Methodist church. The first of these is religion. In the words of Micah, he said, religion means to "do justice, love mercy and walk humbly with the God." Religious education in a democracy, said the minister, means that our youth should be made to know the significance of this text.

The second word is education. Huxley's definition, said Mr. Hayne, is, "Education is the instruction of the intellect in the laws of nature, under which I include not merely things and their forces, but men and their ways; and the fashioning of the affection and the will into an earnest and loving desire to move in harmony with those laws. Education must be tried by this standard."

Theory of Democracy.

The third word, said the Methodist minister, is democracy. There was no real democracy, said the preacher, until the middle of the eighteenth century. The theory of the Greeks and Romans was that only the best man, or king, or a few best men should govern the great majority of people who were regarded as unfit to conduct the affairs of the nation, or their own affairs.

Mr. Hayne then explained the theories of government involved in feudalism, self-government, Bentham's theory, and Brougham's theory. Education in democracy, he said, means the extension of public schools throughout the land, the education of women, and industrial and vocational training. Education, he pointed out, means more than intelligence.

Disregard Men's Rights.

There is too much disregard, said Mr. Hayne, of the fundamental rights of man. These are in regard to the person, such as murder, industry, where loss of life is greater than in war, child welfare, and protection of women in industry. There is a disregard of the rights of man in regard to property, too, as is involved in gambling in stocks and food stuffs. The disregard of the rights of family are indicated by the prevalence of divorces. Many newspapers, said Mr. Hayne, have little respect for reputation and carry on campaigns of falsification. Newspapers as a whole, though, said the minister, are a wonderful institution.

Then there is the failure due to inadequate educational ideals, said Mr. Hayne. When we consider the grave questions that people in a democracy must consider and have considered, we realize the deep need of the right kind of education. We must realize the duty of those who came first to those who came later.

Nothing can take the place of individual conversion, said the preacher. Conversion gives an impulse to righteousness, but does not educate in the laws of righteousness or their application to the complex conditions of modern life. We need the power to know and to do the right.

Importance of Colleges.

The place of the Christian colleges was noted by the minister who reviewed the earliest schools in the land. He pointed out the materialistic tendencies in the last half century and showed how religion is entirely divorced from the American school and state university and secular institutions. The law of the jungle is the law of commercial life, he said.

Christian education, said the minister in closing is a return to Americanism in the truest sense. We need Christian colleges, brave and strong, to teach the fundamental ideals of Jesus as they apply to social and individual life.

Will Honor Methodist Workers.

Workers in the Methodist education drive which will commence Sunday, May 29, will be the guests of honor Friday evening at a supper in the parlors of the local Methodist church. There will be no outside speakers but a program has been planned for the occasion. Those present will make plans for the commencement of the drive Sunday.

BARBED WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS SURROUND CARPENTER'S QUARTERS.

Elaborate barriers are being erected around the old Mathews Estate, Manhasset, Long Island, to insure peace and quiet for Georges Carpentier, the French champion, who is training there for his title bout with Jack Dempsey on July 2. A high board fence has been erected around the barns on the estate, which have been fitted up as gymnasiums, wherein Georges will do most of his training. Barbed wire has been added to the picket fence in front of the house in which Carpentier will live during the training period. There is nothing secret about Georges' preparations, it was said at the camp, but he does not want the confusion of visitors or to have to do anything but what he pleases while training. The photograph shows the barbed wire, which stretches across the top of the picket fence in front of the house in which Carpentier will live during the training period. The house is shown in the background.

Studio Open For Summer.

Why not have your children make the summer vacation profitable to them by studying some musical instrument?

Thos. A. Edison says, "I believe that you should have each of your children taught some musical instrument such as the harp, violin, cello, flute, cornet, clarinet or saxophone, etc."

All great men and women the world over recognize the wonderful influence of music study in character building of children.

I am planning to organize a band, also a young ladies band and orchestra. If interested call to see or phone me within the next few days.

Guinea Fowls Usually Raised in Small Flocks on Large Farms—Tendency to Mate in Pairs—Guineas Begin to Lay Late in Spring.

Many hotels and restaurants in the large cities are eager to secure prime young guineas, and they are often served at banquets and club dinners as a special delicacy. When well cooked, guineas are attractive in appearance, although darker than common fowls. The flesh of young birds is tender and of especially fine flavor, resembling that of wild game. Like all other fowl, old guineas are very likely to be tough and rather dry.

A few of the large poultry raisers, particularly those who are within easy reach of the large eastern markets, make a practice of raising a hundred or so guineas each year, but the great majority of guineas are raised in small flocks of from 10 to 25 upon farms in the Middle West and in the South.

Pearl Is Most Popular Variety.
Domesticated guinea fowl are of three varieties—Pearl, White, and Lavender. The Pearl is by far the most popular. It has a purplish gray plumage regularly dotted or "pearled" with white and is so handsome that frequently the feathers are used for ornamental purposes.

Guinea hens usually begin laying in April, or May, those in the South laying earlier than those in the North. A short time before the opening of the laying period the hens with their mates begin searching for suitable nesting places among the weeds and brush along the fences or in the fields. In this search the male takes as active an interest as his mate, and when a suitable location is found both help to dig out the nest and make it into suitable shape.

Each day as the hen goes to the nest to lay the male accompanies her and remains near by until she comes off. Should anyone approach he shrieks in warning and thus betrays the whereabouts of the nest, which might otherwise be difficult to locate. If several guinea hens are mated with one male they usually all lay in the same nest, but some times a hen after mating will wander off by herself to make her own nest. At times a male bird, after helping one hen to make her nest, will then desert her and pair off with another hen to make another nest.

From 20 to 30, and often more, eggs are laid before the guinea hen becomes broody, at which time she can be easily broken of her broodiness by removing the eggs from her nest, when she will soon begin laying again. If not allowed to sit, guinea hens will continue to lay throughout the summer, laying from 40 to 60 and in some cases 100 eggs during the season, say poultry specialists in United States Department of Agriculture.

Ordinary hens are used, commonly, to incubate guinea eggs, but guinea hens, turkey hens, and incubators also can be employed successfully. The usual setting for a guinea hen is about 14 eggs; for a hen of one of the general-purpose breeds, such as a Plymouth Rock, 18 eggs; and for a turkey hen, about 24 eggs. The incubation period for guinea eggs is 28 days, although frequently they start hatching on the 26th day and are all hatched by the end of the 27th day.

If the nest in which the guinea hen becomes broody is safe from any disturbance, she may be trusted with a setting of eggs, and more than likely will hatch out every egg that is fertile, provided all hatch at about the same time. As soon as the guinea chicks begin to leave the nest the hen will leave with them, and any eggs that are left in the nest will be ruined unless they are placed in an incubator or under a broody hen before they become chilled.

Guinea Hens Are Only Fair Mothers.
Guinea hens usually are too wild to be set anywhere except in the nest where they have become broody, and often such a nest is unsafe. Because of these disadvantages and the fact that guinea hens do not make the most satisfactory mothers for guinea chicks, ordinary hens are most often used to do the incubating and the brooding, at least until late in the summer, when the guinea hens often are allowed to sit and raise a brood without much attention being given them.

Ordinary hens make the best mothers for guinea chicks. Given warm, dry weather and plenty of range, turkey and guinea hens can be used successfully, but should a rain or heavy dew occur the mother turkey or guinea hen is apt to drag the chicks through the wet grass, and many are lost from becoming wet and chilled. Neither turkey nor guinea hens can be induced to seek the shelter of a coop at night and during storms, but will remain out in the fields to hover their broods wherever they happen to be when nightfall overtakes them.

New Organization, Taking Full Control, Turns Prices Back Three Years

The last step in the Maxwell reorganization was the sale of the Maxwell properties to the new and powerful organization, May 12.

The first step of the new organization was to raise the value of the good Maxwell still higher, by restoring prices to the former low level of 1918.

The reduction is $150 on each of the four models, effective at once. This is the second price revision made by the new organization; and the total reduction from the high level, since Sept. 28, 1920, has been $310 on open cars and $350 on closed cars.

What this latest action means, literally, is turning back Maxwell prices to the basis of 1918.

The truth is that the good Maxwell today is a better car than it was three years ago.

It has been given a new goodness, by lowering costs, by increasing plant efficiency, and by greatly improving the manufacturing practices.

The new organization now owns the great Maxwell plants outright. Its way is clear to carry out in full its larger plans and policies.

It pledges itself never to stop working for the further betterment of the good Maxwell, and for the greater satisfaction of present and future owners of this good car.

which a marketing organization can serve its members, said Mr. Moser. It will first completely eliminate country damage which everyone pays for now; it will close the differential between the high and low grades of cotton in which there is an immense discrepancy now; it will eliminate the "city crop," or sampling, which now runs over 300,000 bales a year in the South; and it will eliminate unnecessary handling of products and save a great amount of expense by making it possible to class the cotton only once.

The essential principle is handling a non-perishable crop such as cotton is, said the Bureau secretary, are financing, warehousing and merchandising. Explaining the warehousing system, Mr. Moser said that stock would be offered, both common and preferred. Part of the common stock will be put in the hands of farmers who will vote it all. The rest will be put into the treasury of the organization. The preferred stock will be offered to the public and will carry eight per cent interest. It will be issued in five series, one series to be retired each year. The cotton in the warehouse is the collateral for the interest and sinking fund. Charges on cotton put into the warehouse will serve to provide this interest and sinking fund and common stock will be offered the farmers in return for the charges made for storing cotton.

Two Finance Methods.

There are two methods of financing such an organization, Mr. Moser pointed out. There is first the draft and acceptance plan in which the farmer gets for his cotton a warehouse receipt or a freight bill to which he attaches a draft for the amount due him. This, then is sent to the marketing organization which indorses it and attaches a list of the banks which will discount the paper.

The other method was originated by the Federal Reserve Bank Board and deals with bankers' acceptances. Certain banks are termed acceptance banks and it is with these that the marketing organization makes arrangement for the issuance of credit. The farmer, then, simply draws on the bank in the same way, but the acceptance bank simply guarantees the draft and sends it to the discount bank for payment. Thus the acceptance banks in reality pay out no money. Either method, said Mr. Moser, is a vast improvement over the present system.

Applies Business Methods.

In all events, said the State secretary in closing, a farmers' organization such as the one advocated is simply an application of modern business methods to the marketing of crops. This is the psychological era for the farmer, and the move for co-operation is one of the benefits of the war. The farmer has been driven to this action to protect himself, he said.

Following his address, Mr. Moser answered questions on the part of the audience, and explained the organization of two national wheat marketing associations now in existence in this country as well as the methods of financing these bodies.

WILL OFFER ELEMENTARY COURSES IN CLOTHING

Austin, Texas, May 24.—Elementary courses in clothing, foods, dietetics and home nursing will be offered in the Department of Home Economics during the University of Texas summer school. This is the first time that a course in home nursing has been offered in the summer session. In the elementary course in clothing a new plan is to be followed. One-third of the course will be devoted to the study of textiles and will include a complete study of the various materials from the raw product, through the manufacture, and up to the finished products. Chemical tests of the materials will also be made. The remainder of the course is to be taken up with the making of simple garments.

The prerequisites which were formerly connected with the course in home nursing have been removed, so that it is expected that many students will avail themselves of the opportunity to get practical instruction in the care of the sick in the home. In the elementary course in foods, practice in the serving of foods will be given during the second term of the summer session, following a study of foods and their preparation during the first term.

Women Magistrates

The theory that the legal mind is necessarily masculine in gender has been exploded in the last few years by a number of women lawyers who have made good in their chosen profession, some being elected judges of various courts. In New York City the trying task of weighing justice to the many women who are brought before her rests on the shoulders of Magistrate Jean Norris, of the Women's Court. Mrs. Norris is the first woman ever selected to sit on the judges' bench in a criminal or civil court in New York State. She is a widow and has been practicing law for more than fourteen years.

Entertains For Mrs. E. L. Moore.

The women of the Presbyterian Church entertained with a reception for Mrs. E. L. Moore, the new minister's wife, yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. P. Hicks. Guests were received at the door by Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. A. C. Boger and were introduced to those in line by Mrs. T. H. Shive. Standing in the receiving line were Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Dewey Wilson, President of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Ben Elliott, president of the Westminster Guild, Mrs. J. M. Cooke and Mrs. C. P. Stewart. Miss Frances Hicks and Mrs. Walter McCaleb were at the punch bowl and Miss Olive Shive and Mrs. A. B. Swartwood presided at a registry table where each lady was asked to put her name in a guest book. In the dining room Mrs. Della Houssels, assisted by Members of the Westminster Guild, served ice cream and cake. At the close of the afternoon the guest of honor was presented with a potted fern and the guest book. Wild sun flowers were used for decorations in the reception rooms to carry out the color scheme of orange and green and in the dining room park spur was combined with green for decoration.

WHAT DO YOU THINK IS A WELL-FURNISHED HOUSE?

Well-furnished houses are not cluttered with things which may be useful or attractive in themselves, but which nobody uses or enjoys. They are, rather, those that contain only things necessary for convenience in working, and for comfort and satisfaction in living, and no more.

A house that is well planned, perfectly convenient and comfortable, will also be beautiful. Beauty does not lie so much in the ornaments put on a thing as in the perfect adaptation of that thing to the use for which it is intended.

If a woman tries sincerely to arrange her house according to this idea of adaptation to use, she need not worry about its being "pretty," say household experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. She may not be rich enough to have expensive things, but if she uses harmonious colors for her walls, floors, and upholstery, and chooses furniture for its good design and comfort rather than for its ornamentation, her house can scarcely fail to be restful and attractive. And if with limited means she succeeds in making a convenient, comfortable, and attractive home out of an unpromising, inconvenient farmhouse, she has more to be proud of than if, with the help of an expensive decorator, she had achieved good effects in a house equipped with all modern improvements.

COFFEE

THE UNIVERSAL DRINK

BULK COFFEE if intelligently bought and honestly handled is better and much cheaper than package coffee. The Can, Label and Advertising account for the difference in cost.

Moral Character or Steel Doors

WHICH is the better protection for valuables—safety vaults with steel doors or Christian men of moral character? The greatest security for mortgages and bonds is not the physical properties like railroads and factories on which they are issued, but the moral character of the people. When a majority of the people of any nation have bad moral ideals, no investment is safe.

Why are investments in Russia and Mexico not good? Not for lack of physical property or natural resources. Europe is nervous about their securities because they fear lest the tragic events of the last six years have disturbed the religious faith and moral moorings of the people.

The best protection against anarchy, Bolshevism, radicalism, I. W. W.-ism, red revolution, is Christian Education. It lays the foundation of society upon the Rock of Ages—upon righteousness, law and order, co-operation and unselfishness.

The Christian Education Movement of the M. E. Church, South, is raising $33,000,000 for this great cause. It will equip and maintain the finest and most thoroughly Christian system of schools and colleges in America.

Don't you, as a patriotic American, want in on this?

The Campaign Period is May 28th to June 5th. Send a check for this cause to any M. E. Church, South

"Anybody can get a steady living out of steady effort"

The same clock that ticks off twenty-four hours for one man can't cheat his neighbor. The same laws of right and wrong—the same privilege to do and dare are open to both.

Herbert Kaufman

Success means effort, energy and persistent saving.

Speaking of Floors

Why should your house have

Armstrong's Linoleum

for Every Floor in the House

HERE ARE SIX EXCELLENT REASONS:

1. Linoleum is easily cleaned and stays clean a long time.
2. When properly laid it is a permanent floor which will last for years.
3. Linoleum does not scar as many wood floors do and the cost installed is cheaper than the cheapest grade of hard wood.
4. Linoleum is quiet to walk on and springy under foot.
5. Linoleum is a cool floor in summer and warm in winter.
6. You can get ARMSTRONG'S Linoleum from us at lowest prices for years.
